HEARING — Concerned parents listen as District Supt. Frank R. Elliott (right) outlines his recommendation to create two middle schools for San Anselmo. The final of two public hearings by the district board drew some 250 persons to face the problem of closing and combining city schools because of declining enrollment.

A New San Rafael Unveiled By Planner

4 Alternatives Show Malls, Garden Offices

By PAUL CANE

What may be the San Rafael of tomorrow was spread before city officials last night.

Pedestrian malls, centralized auto dealerships, mammoth shopping centers, garden office complexes, waterfront housing and open space, mass transit systems, freely moving auto traffic — in short, a revitalized city — are visualized in preliminary sketch plans for the San Rafael redevelopment area.

This glowing picture of what might be the San Rafael of the future was painted for the city council by urban planner Hartmut Gerdes, representing the consulting firm of Rockrise, Odermatt, Mountjoy and Amis that is developing facelifting plans for the city.

Four alternative programs — calling for varying degrees of private development, public investment, economic growth and open space — were presented to the city council, which acts as the redevelopment agency board.

From these, the board must tell the consultants which plans it likes. Given a policy decision on what the city wants, consultants said they can shape a redevelopment plan to fit what a private developer will want to invest in and what the city can afford to spend.

Copies of the report and sketch plans are available without charge from the redevelopment agency office, 901 Irwin Street.

The board will meet next Thursday to make its decision on the alternative plans, after receiving recommendations from the planning commission and citizens advisory committee on redevelopment. These bodies meet Monday and Tuesday, respectively, to analyze the plans.

The board is faced with four

Two Hub Middle Schools Backed

By BARBARA HOSMER

A majority of the San Anselmo School District board last night indicated support for a plan to create two middle schools as a temporary measure in the face of declining enrollment and rising costs.

The first indication of how the board may act came during a second spirited public hearing on the options before some 250 parents.

The plan, presented to the board by Supt. Frank R. Elliott and supported by the Sound Options for School parents group, would close Isabel Cook School next year and send district sixth graders to Hidden Valley and Red Hill Junior High Schools.

Elliott told the board that this would save some $17,344 per year, though cost to make the change would be $9,100. He said this plan creates least movement of students, saves money and has more than a simple majority of community support.

District trustees John F. Hulpke, Oliver L. Harle and Millard R. Morgen said they were inclined to support the plan, though Morgen said that if the district could afford it, his first choice would be a combined junior high at Red Hill school.

Trustee Judith L. Vallas favored a combined junior high at Red Hill and urged the board to gain the money for a full junior high school program by selling or leasing the Isabel Cook School property next year.

Trustee Eugene E. Jacks expressed no plan preference. The board will decide the issue at 8 p.m. next Thursday at Isabel Cook School multiuse room.

No board member endorsed the recommendation of the district master plan survey committee that both Isabel Cook and Yolansdale Schools be closed to create a combined junior high school at Hidden Valley Junior High.

But several members of the committee, led by Esther Brunswig, defended their bid for a single large junior high school.

"Two middle schools are a compromise that closes options," Mrs. Brunswig told the board. "Small schools don't create broadened programs. Parents do want a single junior high site," she emphasized. Other parents who worked on the survey committee agreed that two middle schools of small size would mean that curriculum and services would have to be dropped as enrollment declined in the future.

Elliott, in recommending the two middle schools plan, estimated that the schools would have 300 students each and estimated that the total school district enrollment would drop some 80 to 100 students by 1978.

"My preference would be for combined seventh and eighth grades at Red Hill, but realistically that would need a lot of capital outlay," he said. Elliott said that by lease of facilities and possible sale of some of the back property of Isabel Cook School, the district might realize enough money to put some facilities for a combined junior high at Red Hill.

"They're your schools and your kids and we better get it all together," he told the crowd of parents, who broke into the four-hour discussion with occasional applause as a favorite view was expressed.

Attacking the two middle schools report of the Sound Options for Parents, Mrs. Brunswig said, "I found six different methods of computation of the figures, so the validity of the analysis is questionable."

But SOS parents countered that a single junior high would require busing 185 students to school in two buses. To laughter and applause, J. Richard Mur-

Drake Coin At Rancho Olompali?

By MARY LEYDECKER

SAN FRANCISCO — The "exciting discovery" of a silver sixpence at Rancho Olompali north of Novato, a coin which may be linked to the visit of Sir Francis Drake to Marin County, was announced today.

The little coin, dated 1577 and bearing the likeness of Queen Elizabeth was found June 14 at an excavation of a onetime "Miwok (Indian) metropolis," archaeologist Charles Slaymaker told the California Park and Recreation Commission in the State Building here.

The coin, which is engraved with the Tudor crest and cross and has a hole drilled in the top, has been sent to the British Museum in London for microscopic tests and other evaluation.

Slaymaker, an independent archaeologist who has been digging at the former Miwok settlement since 1972, said he was hand troweling when he came upon the coin.

"I thought it was genuine but I did not want to get too excited" until the artifact's authenticity is proved, he said. He added he did not wish, either, to become involved in a local dispute between historians as to where Captain Francis Drake may have landed when he visited Marin in May 1579.

Obviously excited over the find, though, was Robert H. Power, an amateur historian and vice president of the California Historical Society, who long has espoused San Quentin Point as the site of Drake's landing and the location of a fort he built.

Power, who introduced Slaymaker to the commission, has theorized that Drake and his men, who traded with Indians during his Marin stay, ventured up to the Miwok settlement at Olompali.

Slaymaker today showed a photo of the coin he found to the commission as well as other artifacts found nearby. One of these was a tiny glass "trading

8 Guardsmen Are Acquitted In Shootings At Kent State

CLEVELAND (UPI) — U.S. District Court Judge Frank J. Battisti today ordered the acquittal of eight former Ohio National Guardsmen charged in connection with the Kent State University shootings in which four students were killed and nine wounded during an anti-war demonstration.

Battisti, in upholding a defense motion for acquittal when the prosecution rested its case, called the shootings "a series of tragic blunders and mistakes in judgment."

The eight former guardsmen were on trial in U.S. District Court here on charges of conspiring to violate the civil rights of the students who were slain and wounded in a 13-second volley of gunfire by National Guard troops during a demonstration on the Kent State campus on May 4, 1970.

"On the basis of the evidence presented by the government reasonable jurors must find a reasonable doubt as to whether the eight defendants possessed the specific intention to deprive the students of their constitutional rights," said Battisti.

Battisti, in his 17-page written decision, stressed that his verdict was not a judgment of whether the guardsmen were justified in firing their weapons and who was responsible for the shootings.

San Rafael Host To Tam Eleven

San Rafael will host Tamalpais at Paul Miller Field tonight at 8 o'clock in the first of four high school football games set for Marin County this weekend.

Tomorrow afternoon, Redwood will play Marin Catholic in Kentfield, and San Marin will host Drake in Novato. Novato and Terra Linda will meet tomorrow night at Miller Field.

College of Marin will host Los Medanos of Pittsburgh tomorrow afternoon in Kentfield. For details, see sports.

Miller Predicts A Short Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — United Mine Workers President Arnold Miller said today a nationwide coal strike scheduled next Tuesday could last only two weeks if a new contract is agreed on by negotiators before the deadline.

Miller said he saw no need at the present time for any government mediation in the negotiations because there has been "movement" between representatives of coal operators and the UMW.

Mill Valley Of The Future Outlined In General Plan

By REBECCA LARSEN

Mill Valley probably can hold only 1,300 more new housing units; the city's downtown should become more of a pedestrian-oriented neighborhood retail center; the city needs a local mini-bus system to bring people off the hills without their cars.

Those are some of the recommendations in the outline of a new Mill Valley General Plan presented last night to a citizens group which has been working on the plan for several months.

Thomas Cooke of Sedway-Cooke of San Francisco, the consulting firm which wrote the outline, said he would return in mid-December with the plan's first draft.

The group last night reviewed the outline but made no major change.

The outline begins by specifying areas to be preserved as open space — most of them hilly areas in and around north ridge and the marshlands in East Mill Valley.

The properties include Corte Madera, Warner, Blithedale ridges and Warner Canyon; West Corte Madera Ridge; Kite and Alto hills, and Cascade Canyon.

Development should be strictly limited in Fern Canyon, say the consultants. Further building within 30 feet of the banks of city creeks should be forbidden.

Marshlands to be preserved include the marsh behind the Hi-Ho Motel on Redwood Highway and another nearby in East Mill Valley, now owned by Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

Weekend Activities Cover A Wide Range

The list of places to go and things to do for the weekend in Marin and Southern Sonoma counties ranges far and wide.

The annual Strawberry Town and Country Village Fall Art Festival will be in full sway through the weekend; Marin's citizens will discuss pros and cons of decriminalizing drug offenses at a symposium tomorrow, and Marin's barbershop singers will stage their 20th annual show tomorrow night.

The art festival at Strawberry began yesterday and will continue through Sunday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. In addition to display of some 2,500 works by more than 100 artists and craftsmen, the show features art-in-action demonstrations in wood carving, metal sculpting and photography.

"Chasin' Harmony," a comedy musical sponsored by the Marin chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, will be staged at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Marin Veterans Memorial Building at the Marin County Civic Center in San Rafael.

Fixtures and construction materials from the 1926-era Fairfax firehouse, along with surplus town property and unclaimed goods held by the police, will be auctioned Sunday noon at the site of the old firehouse.

The San Anselmo City Council is sponsoring the symposium on drug abuse and public policy from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. tomorrow in the multipurpose room of Isabel Cook School. Panelists will include judges, probation

Nixon Taxman Pleads Guilty

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Richard M. Nixon's former tax lawyer, Edward L. Morgan, pleaded guilty today to back dating the 1969 presidential gift of public papers to the government in order to obtain tax benefits.

Morgan, a 36-year-old member of the White House legal staff in the Nixon administration, was charged with conspiracy "impairing, impeding, defeating and obstructing" the functions of the Internal Revenue Service.

Chief U.S. District Judge George L. Hart Jr. released Morgan in the custody of his attorney pending a pre-sentence investigation. He could receive up to five years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

No Network Harassing Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The special Watergate prosecutor's office reported today it could find no evidence to support a charge that a 1972 Nixon administration antitrust suit against the three major broadcast networks was for harassment purposes.

Special Prosecutor Henry S. Ruth Jr. told U.S. District Judge Robert J. Kelleher in Los Angeles that none of the witnesses interviewed indicated the suit was filed "for improper purposes or motives."

(UPI Telephoto)

Meany Has Wage-Price Challenge For Democrats

WASHINGTON (UPI) — AFL-CIO President George Meany says Sens. Mike Mansfield and Hubert Humphrey are not really sincere in their calls for wage and price controls, and he challenges "brother Mansfield" to prove him wrong.

He also said the Democratic party has deserted organized labor on basic economic issues.

Meany, who says he's against wage-price controls because they limit wages but don't stop inflation, laced into Mansfield, the Senate Democratic leader, and Humphrey, D-Minn., at a news conference after an AFL-CIO Executive Council meeting yesterday.

"I challenge their sincerity..." Meany said.

"Brother Mansfield is not for mandatory price controls. If he means it, he's got the power. He would submit the legislation."

Meany also said Tuesday's congressional elections amounted to "a vote against Richard Nixon, scandal and inflation" rather than a mandate for the Democrats, who he said were no longer the party of Labor.

"We are not getting much support from them on the bread and butter issues that effect the American people," he said.

He also said the United States must do something to regain world respect.

"To think that the U.N. would invite the Palestine Liberation Organization, a bunch of gangsters who have murdered civilians all over the world, and our 'wizard' who is secretary of state got support from only three other nations in opposing the move is terrible," Meany said.

The U.N. general assembly recently invited the PLO, an umbrella organization representing guerrilla groups, to attend its current session.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Courts Expert Bickel Dies

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UPI) — Alexander Bickel, one of the nation's leading Constitutional law experts, died yesterday of cancer. He was 49.

A spokesman at Yale, where he had been a member of the faculty since 1956, said Bickel had been confined to his home as he battled the disease.

Bickel

Bickel, a liberal in politics and a conservative in the law, was a highly respected authority on the Supreme Court and the Constitution.

One of his most controversial opinions was that former President Nixon had the constitutional right to fire special Watergate Prosecutor Archibald Cox because as prosecutor he was an instrument of the White House.

Bickel was the author of "The Supreme Court and the Idea of Progress," published in 1970. The book criticized the high court under Earl Warren in the 1950s.

Loyalists Battle

LA PAZ (UPI) — President Hugo Banzer led loyalist paratroopers into the rugged mountains of eastern Bolivia today to combat die-hard army units that rebelled against his military government.

Banzer reported crushing the uprising, but censors permitted newsmen to send out terse cables saying government mop-up operations were taking longer than anticipated.

The cables from La Paz said loyalist troops were still fighting rebels holed up in the mountains around Santa Cruz, 540 miles southeast of La Paz.

Embargo Talks

QUITO, Equador (UPI) — Foreign diplomats predicted today the Organization of American States would vote to end the decade-old economic and political embargo of Communist Cuba after some tough behind the scenes bargaining.

The United States was caught in the middle between right-wing Latin American countries demanding continued isolation of Fidel Castro's regime and Western countries urging an end to the embargo.

Ponders Results

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford is expected to spend the weekend at Camp David pondering the effects of the Democratic election landslide on his foreign policy.

He has to prepare for his first summit meeting with Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev Nov. 23 and for scheduled stops in Japan and Korea.

But more pressing problems are the fragile Middle East peace negotiations and equally tenuous Cyprus situation, with a deadline imposed by the Democratic-controlled Congress for an arms cutoff to Turkey by Dec. 10.

Early Closing

BELFAST (UPI) — Gangs of youths, many armed with clubs and pistols, roamed Roman Catholic areas of Belfast today and compelled shopowners to close early in a forced tribute to a young extremist shot to death by British soldiers.

Businesses in Catholic areas of Northern Ireland's other main cities also shut for the day, but there were no reports of roving gangs or intimidation outside Belfast.

Pact Suggested

MOSCOW (UPI) — China has sent the Soviet Union a conciliatory message calling for a non-aggression pact and the separation of forces along their tense, 4,500-mile frontier.

It was the first public indication that the Chinese might be prepared to talk.

Official Chinese sources said Peking sent the message to the Kremlin yesterday on the 57th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

Producer Slain

ATLANTA (UPI) — Music producer Stephen Jeffrey Lee, whose record productions included "I Never Promised You A Rose Garden" for singer Joe South, was found shot to death in his home yesterday, police said.

Officers said Lee, 26, was shot twice in the head, apparently with a small caliber pistol. The body was lying face down next to a bed.

Lee recently was employed as the executive assistant of millionaire Mike Thevis, a former pornography dealer, to operate Thevis' General Recording Co., a music and film producing firm.

Hopes To Visit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Exiled Russian writer Alexander I. Solzhenitsyn, "deeply grateful" for the Senate's vote to make him an honorary U.S. citizen, says he hopes to visit America soon.

"I understand that through me you honor with your kindness the multitude of those deprived of civil rights, denied a voice and longing to be heard," he said in a letter released yesterday.

The Nobel Prize winner, author of "Cancer Ward" and "Gulag Archipelago," wrote the letter to Sen. Jesse Helms, R-N.C., sponsor of the citizenship resolution which passed the Senate unanimously and is awaiting House action.

AMA May Alter Insurance Stand

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Medical Association, faced with the loss of at least 54 congressional supporters, may switch sides and endorse compulsory health insurance.

"We would be foolish not to consider mandated coverage," the association's chief health insurance spokesman said in an interview.

The AMA has supported an alternative "Medicredit" proposal which would provide voluntary coverage in the form of income tax credits for the poor.

But 38 Medicredit supporters in Congress were defeated in Tuesday's elections, five lost out in primaries, eight retired and three left to run for other offices.

That's 54, and two other supporters could be lost if Rep. Peter Kyros, D-Maine, and Sen. Milton R. Young R-N.D., are defeated in elections that are still in doubt.

"I still think the tax credit approach is certainly an acceptable way," said Dr. Russell B. Roth, the AMA's last president.

"But we are now persuaded that may not sell, and we would be foolish not to consider mandated coverage."

About 180 congressman had supported Medicredit.

Among those who won't be back next year are Rep. Joel Broyhill, R-Va., the staunchest supporter of the plan on the House Ways and Means Committee, two other Ways and Means members, and Sen. Peter Dominick, R-Colo.

Labor spokesmen cheered the election results.

"A majority of the new Congress has pledged to support national health insurance as part of the Social Security system," said United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock.

Woodcock's Committee for National Health Insurance supports compulsory cradle-to-grave insurance coverage for all Americans, financed through the Social Security system.

The Ford administration supports a plan under which employers would have to offer insurance to their workers, who would be free to accept or reject it.

Roth said the AMA strategy shift was tentative and still needs approval by the 247-member AMA House of Delegates, which meets in Portland, Ore., Nov. 30-Dec. 3.

HUNGER HEARINGS — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., congressional adviser to the U.S. delegation at the World Food Conference in Rome, munched a sandwich yesterday during a conference break. Delegates, convened in Rome to discuss the plight of the world's hungry, were treated to a four-course dinner consisting of four meats ranging from veal to turkey, two vegetables, fruit basket and choice of wine for $6. Postal Plan Will Slow Packages

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Postal Service has figured out a new, billion dollar system that means a package going from El Paso to Midland, Tex., 301 miles away, will travel 1,794 miles.

Under the new National Bulk Mail System, a parcel mailed in Pensacola for Panama City, Fla., 103 miles away, will go through New Orleans, Memphis and Jacksonville.

The General Accounting Office questions the efficiency of such a system, expected to cost almost $1 billion for buildings and machinery.

It seeks to use more mechanized equipment for sorting parcels, catalogs, books, films, circulars, weekly papers, trade journals and "non-time value" magazines.

The system is under construction and should be operating by late 1975. It will use 21 bulk mail centers and 12 auxiliary facilities.

GAO said for most packages sent less than 600 miles — 58 per cent of those handled — the mail will actually be slower.

GAO questioned the claim that by 1984 the system will save $500 million a year, and said the standards the Postal Service is promising under BMS fall short of the present delivery standards of its chief competitor.

Postmaster General Elmer T. Klassen, asked by GAO to respond, did not dispute the findings.

But, he said, "to most customers a one-day difference in delivery standards is not critical, so long as the service is consistent, packages are not damaged and the price is right."

Warning About Food Danger Is Unheard

ROME (UPI) — The delegate from Bangladesh stood up solemnly and warned the World Food Conference that mass starvation could lead to a cataclysmic degeneration of human society.

But only a smattering of delegates showed up at the conference hall to hear him. Many skipped the grim speech to attend a glass-clinking cocktail party in a room next door.

Bangladesh Agriculture Minister Abdus Samad Azad looked out at the nearly empty hall last night and said failure to combat the threat of famine would be "a long-lasting crime against man and God."

"Looking beyond the immediate, one may discern that starvation and malnutrition are not only eroding the efficiency of the work force in the developing world, but are also leading to a genetic degeneration," he said.

Only about 50 of the more than 1,000 delegates showed up to hear Azad warn of a world with "two classes of human beings —one affluent, aggressive and authoritarian, the other depressed, servile and degraded."

"We owe it to ourselves and to our children to prevent such a cataclysmic degeneration of the human society," he said.

Scores of other delegates chose to chat lightly over scotch and soda, vermouth on the rocks and gin and tonic next door at a cocktail party hosted by Ghana.

The steady hum of party chatter and the clink of glasses wafted through the blue curtains separating the reception from the assembly hall as Azad spoke.

"The prime need in world agriculture is for production investment in order to be able to solve the problem where it exists," he said.

He said "world agriculture will continue to feel starved and stunted" until funds are found for "flood cotrol, water management and irrigation."

He said "no amount of ad hoc relief will provide the answer" as long as modern agricultural methods "remain outside the purchasing power of the developing nations and their production potential remains untapped."

Earlier, Chinese delegate Hao Chung-shih blamed the crisis on "plunder by colonialism" and accused the United States of stifling agriculture by "dumping large quantities of its surplus food into developing countries."

But Ambassador Edwin M. Martin, deputy head of the U. S. delegation, said, "I don't see any particular specific evidence of that charge and I remain unconvinced."

Delegates from more than 100 nations opened the U.N.-sponsored food conference in Rome Tuesday to plan global strategy for fighting the food crisis.

The first plan calls for a high level of new development and change, both by the public sector and private investors. Redevelopment activity is spread throughout the area — downtown, on Francisco Boulevard, and on the waterfront.

Changes generated — and paid for — mainly by the private sector are the key feature of the second alternative, which mainly emphasizes modification of Francisco Boulevard.

A revitalized downtown area is the goal of the third plan, although some changes in the waterfront and Francisco Boulevard also are seen. The scale of this plan is less than that of the first; development here assumes that San Rafael will be the main marketplace only for surrounding areas, not for the whole county.

The fourth plan — requiring a great deal of public money — stresses the environment. The emphasis, according to the report, is on "preservation and utilization of natural resources and on beautification and rehabilitation." Little restructuring of Francisco Boulevard is seen, but large-scale canal and bayfront changes are planned.

All plans call for "housing pockets" throughout the city business district.

Specifically, recommendations for each plan are:

ONE — A large regional shopping center — containing at least as many stores as does the Northgate center — is planned for approximately nine square blocks bounded by Mission Avenue and Second Street on the north and south, and by Lincoln Avenue and Lindaro Street on the east and west.

Garden offices — similar to those used in the Northgate Industrial Park — would be extensively built on both sides of Francisco Boulevard. Auto dealerships would be relocated on Francisco in a cluster.

One of the key portions of the plan is transportation. An extensive minibus system for the downtown area is visualized, and many streets would be either closed or open only to local auto traffic. A pedestrian mall is seen for the downtown, featuring widened sidewalks, attractive sidewalk planting, miniparks and rest stations.

To keep traffic out of the downtown area, new roads would be built. The most important traffic corridors would be a new westerly bypass of downtown that would relieve Third and Fourth streets of westerly traffic, and an improved Second Street to handle through traffic to the east.

TWO — A massive shopping center, stretching almost the entire length of West Francisco Boulevard, is the key feature of this plan. Auto centers would be clustered on East Francisco Boulevard, and garden offices are planned for the area between there and downtown.

A scaled-down bayfront park and housing project are expected under this alternative. Light industries are seen as occupying the areas on each side of Highway 17 as it merges with Highway 101.

The downtown area would be the retail center under this plan — the area would be designed as a pedestrian mall, with minimal auto access.

The westbound bypass of downtown would be built under this plan as well, although the minibus system would not be as extensive.

THREE — A smaller, subregional shopping center is planned at the foot of Fourth Street, and auto dealers and garden offices are expected to dominate the Francisco Boulevard area.

A wide-ranging minibus system is recommended, and special roads to bypass the pedestrian-oriented downtown are called for.

Commercial development along the canal will be served by pedestrian walkways, according to the sketches.

FOUR — The "open space" alternative contains fewer construction plans than the others. Except for a facelift for the downtown — a pedestrian shopping mall — and some garden offices at Second Street near Highway 101, the emphasis is on undeveloped land rather than new construction.

Most of the meeting last night was occupied with a 90-minute slide presentation of the sketch plans by the urban planners. Representatives of the economic, landscape and transportation consultants were on hand to answer questions.

In a short discussion after the presentation, members of the council and the audience questioned whether the area could support a massive shopping center with four large department stores.

The economic consultants assured the doubters that it could — provided a similar major shopping center like the Ernest W. Hahn project in Corte Madera doesn't go in first.

(The Hahn project has been tied up in governmental bodies awaiting the necessary permits to fill and build, and there is "a strong possibility" that it never will be built, according to Mike Marston of economic planner Keyser-Marston Associates.)

The board said it plans to make a decision on which plan it wants — or what combinations of features it wants in a new plan — when it meets Nov. 20 at 8 p.m. at city hall.

Oil Interest

BRUSSELS (UPI) — Five more nations announced today they want to join the bloc of oil-using nations, formed under U.S. leadership, to share reserves during any Arab embargo. They were Sweden, Switzerland, Austria, Spain and Turkey.

PLAN

such as a land-capacity ordinance to set the density for properties according to their degree of slope, fire hazards, wildlife and accessibility by road. Also suggested are a mandatory planned-unit development ordinance for all open sites, except for single lots already recorded, and stricter design review procedures. The consultant says his final plan will also suggest ways to finance open space purchases.

Under the public health and safety policies of the city, the outline severely limiting development severly in areas with slope instability or areas that would have ground failure problems in earthquakes.

Development of land subject to flooding also should be more carefully regulated, says Sedway-Cooke. The firm advises that on lands with severe fire hazards, as in the northwest part of the city, further building should be limited to one unit per five acres. (The strictest building zone in Mill Valley now allows one unit per acre.)

To control city noise problems, the outline suggests keeping trucks on main streets such as Miller Avenue; requiring better soundproofing in future housing, and requiring that commercial uses near residential areas produce no noise above 50 decibels, as measured at the businesses' property lines.

Under housing policies, the firm advises that among future residential units, about 20 per cent should be designed for low income families, compared to the 21.8 per cent of housing units in the city today for the low income; 35 per cent for moderate income families compared to 30 per cent today, and 45 per cent for high income families compared to 49 per cent today. (The consultants say they took their statistics for current housing from the U.S. census.)

The city can hold only about 1,300 more housing units, the firm says. Except for those obtained from intensifying use of existing developed areas and limited development on open space properties, most of these units would be built in East Mill Valley and on Shelter Ridge.

To help create a mix of different types of housing, the outline advises rezoning parts of Alto for multiple building; allowing the transformation of some existing homes into duplexes, and encouraging upper floor residential use in commercial areas.

The consultants also suggest giving density bonuses to developers to encourage the building of moderate income units as part of their projects and seeking federal funds for housing development.

One recommendation likely to be hotly discussed in future is that the city use a redevelopment agency to develop low-income and moderate-income housing on East Mill Valley's marshlands.

To expand local employment opportunities, the consultant also suggests promoting office development along Highway 101 and in the Alto shopping center area soon to be built.

The city's downtown area should be kept as a pedestrian-oriented, neighborhood-serving retail center while Miller Avenue and Alto center are allowed to be more auto oriented, says the outline.

In the area of public facilities policies, the plan outline advises that the city eventually may need to consider expanding city hall and may wish to explore sites for a new performing arts center, either on the waterfront near the new public safety building or on downtown Lytton Square.

Auto access to Mill Valley should be limited to Miller Avenue and East Blithedale east of Camino Alto. Use of East Blithedale Avenue west of Camino Alto should be discouraged. The city also should discourage through traffic of autos in neighborhoods near the downtown.

According to the consultants, the city has to work out a local mini-bus system for noncommuter use in order to reduce dependency on the auto.

The outline suggests strengthening the city's network of hiking trails and bikeways.

The consultants also advise working to retain the distinctive differences in appearance among various city areas such as the marshlands, Enchanted Knolls, the downtown section, West Blithedale Canyon and others.

DRAKE

bead" of the type used by Europeans who exchanged them for Indian goods. (Slaymaker said several countries used these beads but that the English traded them before the Spanish.)

Near the two presumably British objects were a number of Indian artifacts. And a short distance from the site of these finds was a pottery shard, which might be Ming porcelain, he said.

Slaymaker said the find was made in the floor of an Indian dance house believed to date to the 16th or 17th century.

Power, speaking of the coin to the commission, said "nothing like it has been found in the Eastern United States." (Drake's landing in Marin preceded English landings in Virginia by five years.)

Power, arguing that Olompali ought to be acquired as a state historical park, said it had been a "metropolis of the Miwok Indians" after the 13th century. The six-acre site has been only superficially excavated, he said, but Slaymaker has found it the "largest and most developed of the Miwok settlements."

Olompali earlier had been dropped from a state park acquisition list because of low priority, and Marin County so far has not carried out a state suggestion that the county purchase it because of local interest.

The site variously has also been a Spanish rancho and in recent years, a onetime home for a hippie commune.

A spokesman for American Indian groups, Eileen Minard of Novato, told the commission today excavations such as that at Olompali ought to be halted because present-day Indians are disturbed over "digging up their ancestors' graves."

A Second Death In London Blast

LONDON (UPI) — A second man died today from injuries suffered in last night's bomb blast at a crowded south London tavern, the Defense Ministry said. Anonymous telephone calls blamed the Irish Republican Army for the explosion.

An artillery regiment headquarters is across the street from the scene of the explosion.

A Defense Ministry spokesman said 21 of the other 27 military personnel injured in the incident remained hospitalized today. Several have had legs amputated.

OBITUARIES

Evelyn J. Nelson Is Dead At 59

Evelyn J. Nelson of San Rafael died yesterday in a local hospital. She was 59.

Mrs. Nelson was a native of Winters, Yolo County, and had lived in Marin for 20 years. She resided in Greenbrae before moving to San Rafael about three years ago.

Her husband, Russell A. Nelson, died in 1968. He was an account executive with Walston and Co., a San Francisco investment firm.

For the past six years, Mrs. Nelson had been employed as a salesperson in a Sausalito jewelry store, Golden Sails. Before that, she taught piano for several years.

Mrs. Nelson is survived by two daughters, Linda Anker of Novato and Karen A. Hill of San Rafael and a granddaughter.

A memorial service will be at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at Keaton's Mortuary in San Rafael. Inurnment will be in Cypress Lawn Cemetery, Colma.

G. C. GARLAND

Funeral for George C. Garland, retired musician of Corte Madera, will be at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow at Godeau Funeral Home, 41 Van Ness Avenue, San Francisco.

Garland died Wednesday in a local hospital after a long illness. He was 76.

He was born and reared in Chicago, Ill. He came to the Bay Area 40 years ago where he was active as a saxophone and clarinet player. When the band business dropped off in the years after World War II, he operated an office equipment repair service in the daytime, still playing with bands at night. He and his wife, Madeleine, lived at 25 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera until her death a year and a half ago. He then entered a local convalescent hospital.

He was a life member of Musicians Union Local 6.

He is survived by a brother, Dr. Herford Garland of Houghton, Mich.

His body will be cremated and the ashes scattered at sea.

REV. CORBETT

Funeral was today in San Francisco for Rev. James M. Corbett, S. J., brother of Eugene Corbett of Petaluma.

Father Corbett, 69, died Wednesday in St. Mary's hospital in San Francisco.

The Jesuit priest was the chief business officer for the University of San Francisco for 14 years, retiring in 1970 to become treasurer of the USF Jesuit community.

He served as an Army chaplain during World War II, seeing action in the Pacific Theater, and was recalled in 1948 for duty at the Pentagon. He later served at NATO headquarters in Paris.

Father Corbett was ordained into the priesthood in 1934 in Kansas. He came to San Francisco from Los Angeles in 1956.

The funeral mass was said at St. Ignatius Church with burial in the Jesuit Cemetery in Santa Clara.

W.S. PALMER

Private funeral has been held for William S. Palmer of Danville, father of Rosemary McDaniel of Novato.

Palmer, 76, died Tuesday at his home.

He was a native of Hydesville, Humboldt County.

Palmer was a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley and co-founder of Palmer School of Walnut Creek. He also was past president of the Rotary Club of Walnut Creek, past District Governor of Rotary International and past president of the Walnut Creek Hi 12 Club.

In addition to his daughter, Palmer is survived by his wife, Elizabeth Hollis Palmer; two other daughters, Ruth McLendon of Texas and Joan Mendes of Walnut Creek; a brother, Rex Palmer of Oregon and nine grandchildren.

HEDWIG RYAN

Hedwig E. Ryan, a resident of Bolinas for more than 30 years, died yesterday in Napa hospital at age 84.

She was a former schoolbus driver for Bolinas.

A native of Germany, she came to the United States in 1926, and had lived in Bolinas since 1942.

SCHOOLS

phy Jr. told the crowd, "We have amazing information — a study on average junior high bottom widths — and you can't get that many bottoms into those buses."

What is the future of Yolansdale School? A worried parent inquired.

"I recommended it three months after I came here and I still recommend that it be closed because of its size," Elliott replied.

But another parent pointed out that the school is in the heart of the city's school population area and that it consciously had been whittled down to 103 students in kindergarten through third grade.

Elliott recommended that the board in 1976 continue studying closing of Yolansdale and combining schools.

He also urged the board, if it adopts the two middle schools plan, to study future consolidation of the two to further consolidate the district schools.

The longest recorded burial alive is one of 100 days ending on Sept. 17, 1968, in Skegness by Mrs. Emma Smith of Ravenshead, Nottinghamshire, England. The coffin was at a depth of 10 feet.

WINTER'S ON THE WAY

A woman walks along a lonely country road near Sioux Falls, S.D., as sure signs of a disappearing fall season and approaching winter are evident, with corn fields barren after the fall harvest. Much of the corn in the area, however, hasn't been picked yet because it is too wet. This photo was made Wednesday. (UPI Telephoto)

Kissinger Assures Israel U.S. Policy Has Not Been Changed

TEL AVIV (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger wound up his latest Middle East mission today, saying there was still a chance of achieving peace and reassuring Israel there had been no change in American policy on the Palestinian question.

After more than five hours of talks with Israeli leaders spread over two days, Kissinger took off for Tunis, the last scheduled stop on his two-week diplomatic mission before returning to Washington.

Before leaving, Kissinger said the chances of continued movement toward peace between Israel and the Arabs had not been destroyed by Arab recognition of the Palestine Liberation Organization as sole representative of the Palestinians.

"We agreed that in the new conditions that exist in the recent months, we have to consider very carefully what can be done," Kissinger said. "We believe that possibilities do exist. The talks have been very good. We know where we are going."

Israeli Information Minister Aharon Yariv told newsmen Kissinger would return in several weeks, after President Ford meets Soviet Communist party Secretary Leonid Brezhnev in Vladivostok and before Brezhnev's planned trip to Egypt.

Kissinger reassured Israeli leaders that there had been no change in U.S. policy toward the PLO because of its recognition at the Arab summit conference in Rabat.

"There is no change in American policy," Kissinger told a luncheon given by Israeli Foreign Minister Yigal Allon. "Every time I come out here, there is a certain fever chart that precedes my trip — profound analysis that the United States has changed its policy and will press Israel to change things."

Yariv said: "Although the situation is more complicated after Rabat than it was before, possibilities for additional step-by-step efforts do exist and they should be pursued by the parties concerned."

Yariv said the talks with Kissinger convinced Israel that Egyptian "President (Anwar) Sadat has possibilities of conducting negotiations with us."

Kissinger had planned to round off his diplomatic mission with a trip to Turkey but cancelled it because a new government still has not been formed there that could give binding commitments to a package of proposals to get negotiations moving on the Cyprus conflict.

Not Enough Police To Watch Speeders

DALLAS (UPI) — The Department of Public Safety says it knows about truckers racing at 80 miles an hour along the state's highways and sympathizes with complaints from motorists.

"We don't have enough people to watch everybody," says Lt. Chester Fant. "We'd have to have as many patrolmen as there are motorists in Texas to effectively control them."

Bridge Unit Eyes 'Bending' Buses

Purchase of 15 "articulated" buses, costing some $100,000 each and designed to carry twice as many passengers as conventional coaches, has been recommended by the staff of the Golden Gate Bridge District.

Tests of the unusual vehicles, which are so long that they bend in the middle to get around corners, showed them to be a "practical transit vehicle and the only way it is possible at this time to increase our productivity," the staff said.

What this means is that drivers, who average some $23,000 a year with fringe benefits, would cost less per passenger hauled. (The drivers' union, however, already has advised the district that drivers of the longer buses will have to be paid more.)

The staff's proposal came before the transportation committee Wednesday. Members of the committee encouraged the staff to continue preliminary work on the possible purchase, but withheld action on a recommendation that the money be spent.

Bus Transit Manager H. Donald White said the purchase plan grew out of a meeting earlier this month among six transit operators and federal officials.

The six tentatively agreed to buy a total of 130 such vehicles, enough to make an attractive contract for a manufacturer.

White said the district's planning department probably will recommend using the special coaches on routes to feed the Larkspur ferry terminal starting in the spring of 1976, as well as for some of the high volume commuter routes from Southern Marin. Tests of two coaches, one German and one Swedish, were conducted in August and September, and "proved their usefulness," White said.

Delivery of the buses would come about the same time as the Larkspur terminal opens in March or April of 1976, he noted. The purchase would bring the district's fleet to 265 buses.

The Swedish version seats 74, compared to 45 in the district's conventional buses, which now cost about $65,000. It also can accommodate 49 standing passengers, for a total of 123. The conventional bus takes 10 standees, for a total load of 55 riders. White has estimated that about 10 seats would have to be removed from the Swedish version to provide adequate leg room.

The bending buses have been in use in Europe for decades. The Swedish model is almost 60 feet long, half again longer than present district buses, but turns in a smaller radius. Its rearmost set of wheels also turn, like the rear of a long fire engine.

Motels Get Second Wind

NEW YORK (AP) — Profits of the nation's major motel chains, cut in half or more by gas shortages in the first three months, have nearly recovered to former levels.

"Occupancy rates which are a direct measure of demand were down five to 10 per cent in the first quarter, but recovered by summer when people felt there was plenty of gas to take their summer vacations," says Joseph Doyle, a securities analyst who watches the top chains.

Developer Says He'll Sue — Again

By LEW CODDINGTON

Developer Ernest W. Hahn has threatened to take the Town of Corte Madera to court, claiming the town first led him on and then turned on him and attempted to destroy his proposed regional shopping center.

Hahn's comments are in a letter received Wednesday in town hall. Mayor Robert J. Flahive was to draft a reply today.

Hahn's proposed Marin Mall shopping center has been a controversial issue in the town for some time, sparking a recall campaign last year in which three councilmen favoring it were replaced by three opposing it.

The developer's letter claims the town conducted "a sham and a ruse for the purpose of forestalling and misleading our company until such time as you could destroy our project."

It is the second such letter from Hahn, who on Jan. 9 threatened to sue the town for $17.5 million if it revoked his application for a fill permit to dump 500,000 cubic yards of dry fill on the 28.2 acre site east of U.S. 101.

The council suspended the application Jan. 21. Hahn did not sue.

On Oct. 21, the council declared its opposition to the fill permit in a letter to the Army Corps of Engineers, which has final power to approve or deny the application.

In the current letter, Hahn said the council's letter to the corps showed its "intention to destroy, by any means available to you, our regional shopping center."

In the previous two and a half years, Hahn claims, the town "acted to and did induce and influence Ernest W. Hahn, Inc., into (expending) enormous efforts and hundreds of thousands of dollars."

In the past year, Hahn says, Corte Madera "intentionally misled" his company. "Your artful design to mislead includes, but is not limited to, the 'stacked' Citizens Committee, your statements of intention to have a complete, fair and impartial review of the general plan, as well as statements made by . . . Flahive . . . that it was not his intention to 'cut off' the shopping center."

In light of the deception, Hahn went on, "I now have no other alternative but to seek and pursue any and all legal remedies available to our company . . . against the town . . . and against any appropriate individuals."

Hahn claimed the town has "binding legal obligations," but did not describe them.

The town has no signed agreement with Hahn, but "binding legal obligations" could include verbal statements and public acts, according to town Treasurer Frank Bigley.

The letter does not firmly commit Hahn to a suit, and does not cite a specific amount for the damages he claims he sustained.

Boston Police Arrest Three

BOSTON (UPI) — Police today arrested three persons and dispersed hundreds of black and white youths milling about taunting each other outside Hyde Park High School annex.

It marked the third consecutive day police had to disperse crowds at the school since a court ordered integration plan went into effect nine weeks ago.

$1 Awarded For Salad In The Face

That's what a Marin waitress learned yesterday as a Marin judge closed the book on her $20,000 damage suit against the owner of the Fairfax restaurant where she once worked.

Barbara Valentine sued Harry Ghiringhelli in 1972 because, she said, he strode into the kitchen of his Deer Park Villa, grabbed a handful of lettuce and Roquefort dressing from the salad she was eating, and tossed it in her face.

She claimed she was entitled to $20,000 for her mental anguish and humiliation, but Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson decided yesterday the incident was worth a dollar.

He also ordered each party to pay his own legal expenses.

Silverhart Plans PUC Retirement

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Carl Silverhart, chief examiner of the state Public Utilities Commission, will retire at the end of the year.

A lawyer since 1929, Silverhart came to California in 1948 after military service during World War II and joined the commission in 1949.

THE BONGS OF BIG BEN

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — You've heard of waking up to music from the radio?

Dave Frizzell, who spent 12 years at sea as a ship's radio operator, wakes up each morning to the tolling of London's famous Big Ben.

Frizzell wired a short wave radio at home to turn on at 6 o'clock each morning when Big Ben tolls on a BBC radio broadcast.

"It brings back a lot of memories — London always was a good port for seafaring fellas," says Frizzell.

Republican Calls For Ouster Of House Minority Leader

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Peter Peyser, a two-term Republican from New York, said today John Rhodes must be replaced as House minority leader if the GOP is going to survive Tuesday's Democratic election victory.

"It's time for a change. New leadership is needed," Peyser told a news conference.

"The party needs to take hold in a different way if it is going to survive. It must represent urban as well as rural Americans and relate to problems such as the mass transit crisis in big cities."

Rhodes of Arizona was elected to the post Dec. 8, 1973 after Gerald R. Ford became vice president. Rhodes was not immediately available for comment.

Peyser criticized reactions by Rhodes and Mary Louise Smith, chairman of the Republican National Committee, to the election results. He said they implied the "ball is now in the hands of the Democrats" when it comes to solving the nation's problems.

"It's time for us (Republicans) to get in the ball game. Our party can be a viable and live party," he said. "This is no time for one major party to sit back and see what happens."

Both Democrats and Republicans in the House will organize their parties in December, a month earlier than usual, as provided in a House reform bill passed last month.

Rhodes was elected to succeed Ford as House GOP leader largely with conservative backing. Tuesday's election saw 36 incumbent House members defeated, the great majority of them conservatives and supporters of Rhodes.

The Republicans who survived are largely GOP moderates and liberals such as Peyser.

Cuts Viewed As Balanced Budget Key

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford's balanced budget goal will mean either a tax increase or cuts in social programs such as welfare and food stamps, Budget Director Roy Ash said today.

Ash also told a White House news conference that the budget for the current 1975 fiscal year, which ends next June 30, would probably end up $4 to $5 billion in the red.

He said that the government must cut spending, increase revenues or combine the two alternatives or the result will be a seventh straight budget deficit in 1976.

In pre-election speeches Ford vowed to balance income and spending in fiscal 1976, the first real Ford administration budget.

"Defense cannot come down any further," he said.

A conservative fiscal policy is central to the President's anti-inflation program and Ash said he was meeting daily in what he wryly called "blood letting sessions" with government departments and agencies, pruning their projected 1976 expenses.

Ash, however, was less firm than Ford has been on the prospect of balancing government income and expenses in 1976, saying cautiously that it is "certainly the direction we should be going."

The slumping economy, which has reduced personal and business tax payments that the government depends on to run its programs, has placed the administration at a "major crossroads" of fiscal policy, Ash said.

Benefit Car Wash Sunday

A benefit car wash for the St. Raphael's Church youth group is scheduled for Sunday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Gilmore Shell, Third and Irwin Street, San Rafael.

Cost is $1 per car. Proceeds will go for a Christmas show for a San Rafael retirement home, among other youth club activities.

Ford Withdrawal Of Gibson Urged

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., said today that President Ford should withdraw his nomination of Andrew E. Gibson to head the Federal Energy Administration because of conflict of interest.

"This appointment is an insult to every patriotic American," McGovern said in a statement. "Gibson has a million-dollar ring through his nose with the oil industry and is holding the chain at the other end."

MONTGOMERY WARD

Nixon's Afflicted Lungs Respond

LONG BEACH (UPI) — The touch of pneumonia in Richard Nixon's right lung and the fluid in his left lung are responding to treatment and he is walking more as his condition improves, the expresident's doctor says.

Nixon's lawyer meanwhile told the Watergate trial judge in Washington it would be at least "two to three months" before his health would be up to giving even a written deposition in response to subpoenas for his testimony.

Dr. John Lungren said Nixon continues to improve but he is still in serious condition 16 days after hospitalization and 10 days after urgent surgery, when he almost died of postoperative shock.

The "small area of pneumonitis in his right lung is responding well to antibiotic therapy and is resolving," Lungren said in a statement released by Long Beach Memorial Hospital. "The fluid in the left lung is becoming smaller."

Lungren said Nixon is taking brief walks in his hospital room, and "We're gradually increasing his activity."

He also said a cardiological monitoring tube has been disconnected because Nixon has shown no sign of heart trouble throughout the crisis.

In a four-page affidavit filed with U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica, Nixon attorney Herbert Miller said it is expected that Nixon will remain hospitalized at least another 10 days to two weeks.

Nixon's doctors and the hospital have repeatedly refused to say when Nixon could leave, calling his condition too serious for speculation.

The lawyer noted that Nixon's visits with his wife and daughters are limited to five minutes an hour because he "is very weak and easily fatigued."

Sirica has several options for dealing with the problem caused by the absence of Nixon, a key witness for both prosecution and defense.

The judge has said he was considering sending a court-appointed medical team to examine Nixon.

J. MARTIN ROSSE
To serve second term

Rosse Again Strawberry Board Chief

Architect J. Martin Rosse has been reelected for 1974-75 as president of the Strawberry Area Community Council, a group dealing with community events and planning in unincorporated Strawberry, Bel Aire and Eagle Rock.

Rosse already has served one year as president.

He said one of the chief jobs of the council in coming months will be working on implementation of the Strawberry Area Master Plan, recently approved by the county. He played a chief role in writing that document.

Rosse has his own architectural firm in San Francisco and among other projects designed Del Mar and Granada schools in the Reed School District and the First Unitarian Church in San Francisco. He also was the architect for the Strawberry Recreation District building.

The 58-year-old architect holds a bachelor's degree from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is a veteran of World War II.

He and his wife reside at 301 Reed Boulevard in Strawberry.

Other council officers elected Wednesday are: Elizabeth Doss, of 309 Strawberry Drive, vice president; Kris Zelear of 154 Leland Way, treasurer, and Sandra Dorsaneo, of 139 Seminary Drive, secretary.

Lame Ducks Wing To Rome

The two House Agriculture Committee members left with three winning Democrats, Eligio de la Garza of Texas, Jerry Litton of Missouri and David R. Bowen of Mississippi.

They will visit the sevennation Sahel area of Africa, which has been devastated by drought, and spend five days in Rome at the World Food Conference.

Like other congressional trips, the journey was considered educational in nature to help the congressmen frame relevant legislation. There are only four weeks remaining in the term of the 93rd Congress.

'I'm Sorry And I'm Sorry' Burke Told LA Times Chief

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Los Angeles Times publisher Otis Chandler testified yesterday his old college friend Jack Burke said "I'm sorry and I'm sorry and I'm sorry" when he informed him he had concealed facts about GeoTek Enterprises.

Chandler, a fellow weight man on the Stanford track team with Burke, said he was "shocked and terribly upset" when Burke told him.

Burke, an oil promoter formerly living in Marin and now a resident of Southern California, is charged with controlling dummy firms used to siphon investors' money from legitimate companies set up by Burke.

Chandler, 46, testified for the prosecution at the stock fraud trial and related details of a telephone conversation between the two on Feb. 14, 1972.

At that time, the newspaperman said, Burke called him and said he had "something terrible to say." Burke then told Chandler he had "set up some companies owned by his brother, Robert, and these companies had done business with JB Oil Co.", he said.

JB Oil was the predecessor of GRT Management Co., which set up limited partnerships called GeoTek Programs that the government charged bilked investors by failure to disclose material facts.

Chandler said he was an "outside director" of GTR, meaning he did not actually have any office in the company other than his seat on the board of directors.

The publisher said Burke toldhim he had not disclosed the existence of the Robert Burke companies earlier because he did not think anyone would find out about them.

"He said a couple of times 'I should have told you before and I'm sorry and I'm sorry and I'm sorry,' " Chandler said.

Chandler testified about a board meeting on Feb. 24, 1972, in San Francisco where Burke resigned his offices in the company although he could have called a shareholders' meeting and forced out the rest of the board since he owned the majority of the stock.

Chandler testified that he still believed in the merger of Pacific Oil and Gas Development Corp. as a "viable alternative" after Burke's disclosures and that he continued to attempt to get the merger approved.

A ZEBRA WITH HORNS?

At Lion Country Safari in Laguna Hills, where hundreds of African animals roam freely, there is no telling what a photographer may encounter. For instance, this zebra munching contentedly isn't aware that he has suddenly sprouted horns on his mane. But wait, he was merely sharing a casual lunch yesterday with a friendly oryx beisa.

Teamsters Pension Fund Suit Ruled Class Action

1-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A federal judge here ruled that a lawsuit challenging age requirements of a Teamsters Union pension fund is a proper class action.

Monday's ruling by Judge William H. Orrick Jr. means up to 120,000 persons in 10 Western states could benefit if the judge ultimately decides the age requirement is improper, said San Rafael attorney R. J. Wolf.

Before Orrick's decision, only Newark truck driver Frank J. Souza, on whose behalf Wolf sued the Western Conference of Teamsters Pension Trust last year, stood to gain from a favorable ruling.

Wolf said Souza left the pension fund on Dec. 31, 1968, to go into business for himself. Since he was 48 at the time, and pension regulations required retirees to be 52 or older before qualifying, Souza was denied benefits.

Later, the age limit was lowered to 45 and made retroactive to Jan. 1, 1969, meaning Souza missed out on collecting benefits on his 22 years as a truck driver by only one day, Wolf said.

The attorney said an undetermined number of Marin citizens are among those who stand to gain if Orrick declares the age requirement illegal and orders the pension fund to pay those members who retired too early.

Pension officials say an unfavorable ruling to them could cost about $50 million in back benefits, Wolf said.

Turkish Students Burn U.S. Flag

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Some 2,500 university students staged an anti-American protest in Istanbul today, burning an American flag and accusing the United States of "carrying out a two-faced treacherous policy" over Cyprus.

It was the first anti-American protest in Turkey in several years.

Pelican Harbor Slips Slashed

After lengthy deliberation, the Sausalito Planning Commission last night slashed drastically the number of boat slips that will be allowed in the planned Pelican Harbor Marina.

Commissioners gave permission for 60 slips, 42 less than requested by developer Ned Martin for the three-acre site at the foot of Johnson Street.

Last week, they said limited auto parking would allow a maximum of 90 slips for the facility. Martin wanted 102 berths.

Last night's decision for 60 slips, which came after two and a half hours of discussion, left Martin visibly upset and his wife, Barbara, in tears.

Commissioners, however, left the door open for Martin to apply for additional berths at a later date, after the city decides how much development it wants on the basis of a recently completed study of downtown traffic conditions, according to planning director Herb Case.

At one point, Commissioner George Hutchins urged approval for only 15 slips, which would have a minimal impact on already congested downtown traffic, he said. Only commissioner Dorothy Gibson supported the recommendation.

She and Commissioner Thomas H. Gildersleeve opposed the 60-berth plan, saying the figure was reached arbitrarily. Martin indicated that he may appeal the decision to the city council.

Three Court Doctors Will Examine Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica, acting on a request of defendant John D. Ehrlichman, today agreed to appoint three doctors to examine former President Richard M. Nixon to determine if he is too sick to testify in the Watergate coverup trial.

Sirica granted the motion one day after Nixon's lawyers submitted a medical report saying their client could not undergo questioning for at least two to three months without a "serious risk to his health."

Former Nixon campaign aide Powell A. Moore meanwhile began his second day on the witness stand in the trial of Ehrlichman and four other former Nixon aides.

Ehrlichman's attorney, William S. Frates, asked Sirica to name three "really great doctors" to examine Nixon. Frates said he did not doubt the medical reports being sent from Nixon's bedside in California, but wanted to "clarify the whole situation" since he believes Nixon is an indispensable witness in Ehrlichman's defense.

"I will grant the motion to appoint three outstanding men in this particular field," Sirica replied. "I hope to be able to do it by next week if I can."

In Long Beach, hospital officials reported Nixon was recovering from surgery 10 days ago to relieve a phlebitis condition in his left leg. But the former president's personal physician, Dr. John Lungren, said Nixon is still in serious condition.

Sirica said he particularly wanted to find experts in cardiovascular disease and internal medicine to examine Nixon, who reportedly came near death after the surgery.

The judge said he hoped to arrange an appointment this weekend with one of the doctors recommended to him and possibly can name his three-doctor panel next week. There was no immediate indication how soon the examination could take place.

Lawyers for cover-up defendant H. R. Haldeman joined in Frates' motion and other defense counsel did not object. The prosecution also did not object, but said it saw no need to have court doctors examine Nixon.

"We don't conceive of the former president as an important or vital witness for the government's case," said chief trial prosecutor James F. Neal. "We don't even conceive of him as an important witness for any defendant's case. But we have no objection."

The decision was made and announced before the jury was called in for the 30th day of the trial. Jurors have not been told of Nixon's critical illness.

Sirica ruled yesterday that the prosecution can submit into evidence 26 tapes of Nixon's White House Watergate-related conversations covering the time between June 23, 1972 — six days after the bugging arrests — and April 26, 1973.

The tapes, which comprise the bulk of the prosecution's case, will be played in the courtroom beginning Monday.

There also were indications that Sirica might set aside any conviction on two specific counts of the 12-count Watergate cover-up indictment. The two counts charge Ehrlichman and former Attorney General John N. Mitchell with lying to the FBI.

U.S. District Judge Gerhard A. Gesell set aside Ehrlichman's conviction on a similar count in the Ellsberg break-in trial, concluding that the applied statute was not meant to cover statements to FBI agents.

Oil Talks Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford has invited the governors of all coastal states to the White House next week to discuss offshore oil drilling and leasing, a spokesman said today.

Pair Held In Mill Valley Burglary

Two Mill Valley men were arrested last night after the burglary of a home in the North Ridge subdivision of Mill Valley.

According to Mill Valley police, the two suspects were spotted by a Tiburon policeman at about 9:30 p.m. as they sat in a car stuck in a ditch on Tiburon Boulevard near Trestle Glen Drive.

When Tiburon police approached, the men fled. James Brian Kopan, 19, of 24 Lower Drive was stopped by police a few moments later.

Checking on the car, Mill Valley police found it was registered to a resident at 15 Underhill Drive in Mill Valley. Police said they found the home at that address had been ransacked.

The residents were on vacation, and police said they are not sure who lives at the address and what, if anything, is missing.

A short time later, a second man, Stephen Richard Gommeringer, 20, was arrested by Mill Valley police at his home on 103 East Manor Drive.

The two were booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of burglary and vehicle theft. No bail was set, and they were to appear today in Marin Municipal Court.

Pilot Says SST Is Here To Stay

MOSES LAKE, Wash. (UPI) — The supersonic transport is too important for the world to ignore and is here to stay, says the pilot of the Concorde SST.

John Cochrane, assistant director of British Aircraft Corp. (BAC) flight operations, flew the Concorde into Moses Lake yesterday to begin a month of de-icing test.

The craft, the third Concorde to fly, will be based at the Grant County Airport during the testing.

Cochrane said after landing here that the Concorde crossed the Atlantic in a time of two hours, 55 minutes.,

DEPRESSION ART "FOUND"

Public Offered 1937 U.S. Gov't Art Prints

Imagine, if you can, finding several thousand sets of antique prints of the world's greatest paintings that were lost for more than 35 years! It actually happened .. and this is the true story of the discovery of that lost treasure.

Eleanor Roosevelt

Back in 1937, immediately following the depression years, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and a select group of a dozen nationally prominent people formed a voluntary national committee for art appreciation to create an art program that would give the public a well-needed moral lift. It was the committee's decision to select the world's most famous paintings from the 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, and 20th centuries - the best paintings of Matisse, Van Gogh, Renoir, Picasso, Gauguin, Titian, etc., and to reproduce them in full color as perfectly as humanly possible and make them available to the public at a price within the reach of nearly everyone.

Abandoned In 1937

For some unknown reason, after a quantity of these beautiful reproductions were made, the entire project was abandoned and this collection of perfect reproductions was stored in a Brooklyn warehouse, where they remained undisturbed since 1937.

Through a series of rare coincidences, the lost collection was "rediscovered" and leading lithographers and art critics agreed that the subject matter and quality of detail and color reproduction was incredibly accurate. Over $500,000.00 was spent to make finely engraved glass printing plates. It would be impossible to reproduce prints such as these under existing methods, and for that reason these prints are literally collector's items. Once they have been sold, there will be no more available. A truly excellent art "investment" that makes a fabulous gift.

Available to Public

These authentic original 1937 prints have been appraised by the American Appraisers' Assoc. at $7.00 each print. Now, these full color 11"x14" prints are finally available to the public at $19.95 for a collection of 18 prints. Send cash, check or money order to: U.S. Surplus, Dept G74, P.O. Box 605, Tarzana, Calif. 91356. Fully GUARANTEED. Certificate of authenticity given with each set. Mastercharge and BankAmericard OK (give card number).

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Many Ways To Prepare Seafood; New Menu Item For The Grotto

The number of different cooking processes for seafoods is considerable — let me count the ways.

Basic methods used in major commercial seafood restaurants and specialty houses are pan frying, deep frying, grilling, broiling, sauteing, poaching and baking. With some seafoods you can use just about anyone of them. With others, for practical reasons, you may be limited to two, three or four.

But to say that you don't care for anything deep fried is not necessarily a showing of discriminating taste. Actually deep frying has advantages besides convenience over pan frying or grilling. The heat is more evenly distributed and the hot (preheated) oil in the deep fry well does a better job of sealing the pores of the food, keeping the grease out and the natural flavor in.

Deep frying is used mostly with smaller items such as scallops, prawns, crab legs and scatter. But even fresh fish can benefit. Trouble is, large filets don't always hold together in a deep fry well, so they have to be pan fried — or grilled if they are too large for a pan. I'm told this is the custom on San Francisco's Fisherman's Wharf, which has gained quite a reputation for its seafoods.

It's also the way it's done at the Grotto in San Rafael. Ursula Valan, who supervises the kitchen operation, spent several years on the wharf and was also trained in European restaurant schooling.

However, everyone has his own preferences and the Grotto does attempt to satisfy them. Its menu offers alternate ways of preparation as suggestions and customers' wishes are also respected when practical. You couldn't get much more on the Grotto menu without going into fine print or a super-sized format. And the trouble with too many menu suggestions is that some people simply get bewildered.

Soon there will be one new addition to the menu — in fact, next week if you want to take advantage of it. But it will have to be on a Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday night. The action is too fast on weekends and this is something which means taking your time.

Planned for those three days is a complete gourmet special dinner for a minimum of six persons and a maximum of 15. It's a chance for several diners to get together and indulge themselves on various types of seafood, including abalone, crab legs, scallops, mahi mahi, sea bass, sole and other fresh catches of the day. The entree will be served family style for everyone at the table to try and will offer a dozen different items. If the group is larger than six the variety will be expanded. Requests for special combinations will have to be made in advance.

Mind you, this is no combination "seafood platter" in the usual sense. In addition to the entree, the dinner will include soup, salad, hot appetizers, dessert and coffee. The price will be $7.95 per person and everyone will come out better than if each tried to order his own variety of seafoods. It's a cinch you will get all you can possibly eat — and good wholesome food.

THERE ARE NEW entertainers' faces at El Greco Spanish restaurant on the San Anselmo Miracle Mile. Featured on Wednesday and Saturday nights is classical guitarist Jay Jacobwitz. During the rest of the week, two brothers, Steve and Augustine Thompson, flamenco guitarists, provide the music.

El Greco is open seven nights a week. Prices for a full dinner, prepared by owner Jose Pons himself, who is by no means a slouch in his profession, run from $4.50 to $6.75, including soup, salad, dessert and coffee.

Jose's wines are good, too and there are a lot of Spanish labels. Average price per full bottle is about $4.50, with some marked up to $6.75. His house wine, also Spanish, is $3.50 per liter.

Jose had done a lot of fixing up at El Greco in recent months and he has a really colorful place with interesting furnishings. There are more improvements to come after the first of the year — a combined wine and fish shop on the adjoining property and also a new, larger kitchen to be built upstairs on the present building, leaving more room below.

NANCY VALENCIA closes her engagement at Sabella's this weekend and for the next two weeks she will be replaced at the organ by Anne Tanner, playing Tuesdays through Saturdays. After that I believe she will be replaced by Paul Fontes.

Lou Sabella has plans for several changes at the restaurant (Lou's mind is always turning over with new plans and I never knew a man who could come up with so many interesting ideas) and I will be reporting on some of these soon.

PEACOCK GAP GOLF AND COUNTRY CLUB also has a new entertainer on Sundays from 5 to 8 p.m. — young Mike Blakeman at the new Yamaha organ (you could tie this in with Peacock Gap's Sunday champagne buffet for $4.95 or even an early dinner). Mike handles both piano and organ and has been playing since he was about 10 years old.

On Saturday nights there is still music for dancing by Bob Olney's Orchestra from 8 to midnight. Peacock Gap also serves dinners on Fridays as well as Saturdays and Sundays. Lunches are served seven days a week from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday breakfasts are offered from 7 a.m. (tie this last in with your golf game).

CREDIT CARDS are being honored more and more at restaurants — American Express, BankAmericard, Carte Blanche, Diners Club and Master Charge. In this area BankAmericard and Master Charge are most prevalent, although it is likely that more Diners Club and Carte Blanche holders use them to a greater percentage for meals on an international basis.

Early this year we found about 58 per cent of all Marin restaurants listed in our Dining and Wining Guide willing to honor one or more credit cards. Of our Sonoma listings the percentage was 78 but then we do not cover all the small Sonoma County eating places. In addition some restaurants also have their own credit systems for old established patrons with top ratings.

But many restaurants that used to do this have given it up.

BIRTH OF A NEW MENU IDEA — Ursula and Stanley Valan of the Grotto seem pleased with thier plan for a new gourmet seafood dinner. Designed for tables of six to 15, it will be served only on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Marin Dining And Wining

The National Retail Merchants Credit Association estimates the average cost of an in-house credit system is 7 per cent of sales. The discount rate charged by credit card companies is usually substantially less.

However, if you are a perennial credit card user you might remember this: The records also show that when dining out card users as a whole tend to buy more expensive food and leave larger tips.

Around the Bay Area the average weekly dining out expenditure per family with an income of over $15,000 is said to be $12.04. For a family in the $25,000 class it would probably be about $15 or $20. Compare this with American Express records which shows that its average cardholder income ($25,000) eats out 117 times a year (more than twice a week) and his average bill is $37.20.

Horse Course

FULTON, Mo. (UPI) — William Woods College of Fulton offers a summer course in horses and horsemanship. It includes all phases of the care and feeding of horses, from shoeing to shoveling.

Mill Valley Concert Series Set

The Mill Valley Chamber Society's 1974-75 concert series will begin Nov. 17 at 8 p.m. at the Mill Valley Methodist Church.

David Subke, society director, said works by Bach, Vivaldi, Mozart and Telemann will be performed by oboist Deborah Henry, violinist Teresa Madden and Carol Schwamberger, cellist Terry Adams and harspichordist Jeanette Campbell. Subke himself will play the flute.

The society is sponsored by the Mill Valley Art Commission.

Admission to concerts is $2.50, with students and senior citizens admitted for $1.50.

More information on concerts and memberships is available from Subke, of 23 Sycamore Avenue, or art commission co-chairman Glenn Peterson, of 135 East Blithedale.

Future concerts will be Dec. 8, Jan. 12, Feb. 2 and 23, March 16 and April 6 and 27.

Building Of Mansion To Continue

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Lameduck Gov. Ronald Reagan said yesterday construction of the luxurious new governor's mansion would continue despite vigorous opposition to the project by Gov.-elect Edmund G. Brown Jr.

After lobbying for a new mansion through most of his two terms, Reagan gave newsmen a flat, "No," for an answer when asked if he planned to slow up the $1.3 million project with Tuesday's election of Brown as his successor.

"It's a residence not for any one particular governor," the retiring Republican told a news conference. "It's a residence for governors on down through the years for, oh, a hundred years or more depending on how well it's constructed.

"And, any individual governor who chooses not to use it, why that's up to him," Reagan added.

Opposition to the ranch-style mansion in suburban Carmichael was one of the most persistent themes of Brown's successful campaign.

He called it a wasteful "Taj Mahal," and said it was regrettable ground was broken at the tree-shrouded, 11-acre homesite during the time most Americans found housing hard to obtain and when President Ford called on everyone to cut back spending to help fight inflation.

The Democrat Brown has promised not to live in the new mansion, and said he would fight in court to have the construction contracts nullified.

In view of Brown's pledge, a reporter asked Reagan if it might be cheaper for taxpayers if the contracts were terminated now instead of after inauguration of the new governor in January.

"Not particularly," Reagan replied. "Contracts have all been let. This would require an act of the legislature to do it."

The legislature appropriated money to begin the project on land donated by Reagan supporters. The site overlooks the scenic American River about 15 minutes from the Capitol.

Contracts were awarded for the mansion last month. State Architect John C. Worsley said so far grading for the foundation and driveways has been completed and utility lines transferred, but no concrete poured.

During his campaign, Brown hinted he may move into Sacramento's old governor's mansion in the heart of the city where his father lived for eight years as Reagan's predecessor.

"What's wrong with the old mansion? It was fine when the Browns left it. I wonder what the Reagans did to it," Brown would tell supporters during one campaign rally after another.

Shortly after Reagan was inaugurated his wife, Nancy, branded the 96-year-old Victorian and Gothic home a firetrap and insisted the family move out.

Since then, they have lived in a rented home near downtown and sought approval for building a new mansion.

The old mansion actually was built for a Sacramento businessman in 1878. The state purchased it in 1903 for $32,500 to serve as the official home for governors. It was used for that purpose for 64 years and is now maintained by the state for tourists.

TRANSITION — Gov. Ronald Reagan (right) smiles over a remark made by Gov.-Elect Edmund G. Brown in Sacramento. The two met yesterday at the Capitol to begin making the transition in administrations. Reagan also announced in Sacramento that construction of a new governor's mansion will not be slowed. Brown campaigned against the mansion.

Dymally Hits Shortage Of Demo Money

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Lt. Gov.-elect Mervyn Dymally today blasted Democratic party regulars for doing "nothing financially" to support his campaign and pledged to return the favor during his term in office.

Dymally said he would withdraw from the "formal, legal structure" of the party, but that he would not bolt the Democratic party. "I will represent those who work free and then are forgotten, those who don't get party appointments after elections — the young, minorities and women," Dymally said.

The first black in California history ever elected lieutenant governor, Dymally said he spoke with "every major party official" following his primary victory in June.

"They said they would help but they did nothing financially," he told newsmen.

"Minorities vote faithfully and loyally for Democrats but then when they run as candidates they have difficulty finding support," the black lawmaker charged.

He directed his criticism at the state Democratic Central Committee and the California Democratic Council. He said he ended his campaign with "my signature to $90,000 in notes" and said he was charged $10,000 to finance a get-out-the-vote drive Tuesday in his own Los Angeles senatorial district.

Dymally said he had spent 12 years as a Democratic lawmaker developing "a good base in black and brown communities for Democrats" only to discover that the party "has to be more relevant to those needs it's supposed to serve."

He said that Charles Mannatt, Southern California chairman, was the only party official to contribute funds and support to his campaign.

Mail To France Being Returned

A strike by French postal workers has snarled Marinites' hopes of sending mail to France, San Rafael Postmaster Hugh A. Cassidy said today.

Post offices throughout Marin and the United States are warning patrons that mail addressed to France is undeliverable and will be returned to the sender. The postal workers' strike began several weeks ago, Cassidy said.

U.S. postal workers are attempting to head off all mail to France when it comes over the counter — and are returning all France-bound mail dropped into mailboxes, to the senders.

Patrons who've gotten back their mail addressed to France may either wait until the strike ends and send the mail again with the same postage, or may receive a refund on their stamps, Cassidy said.

Free Choice For Doctors—Not For Patients

The American Medical Association and its allies in the Hospital and health insurance industries keep harping on an old line.

Thomas C. Paton, president of Blue Shield of California, sounded it again last week in a speech before the San Rafael Rotary Club.

National health insurance, he said, would mean that consumers "couldn't shop for better prices, better service, and better benefits."

THIS IS THE SAME line that was taken by AMA and its allies when the Medicare bill was being debated a decade ago. Any government health care program, they argued, would deprive Americans of their "free choice" of physicians and hospitals.

It's time they abandoned this argument. It doesn't wash.

The fact is that "free choice" of physicians and hospitals is largely meaningless for most Americans.

Since the AMA prohibits its members from advertising or soliciting business, the person seeking medical attention has little to guide him. In the yellow pages of the telephone directory (which somehow escape AMA's advertising ban), he will find a long list of doctors with their specialties indicated. He may not even know what kind of specialist he needs — only that he is unwell and wants help.

When he selects a name (from the yellow pages or on recommendation of an acquaintance), he likely will be turned over to some other doctor in the same clinic. And that doctor — whom the patient did not select — will put him in a hospital. And the doctor, not the patient, will select the hospital.

THE "FREE CHOICE" in the present system is for doctors, not patients.

Moreover, it is this very system that keeps health care costs unreasonably high, and thus is forcing adoption of some kind of government health care program.

And by continuing to insist on this "free choice" (for the doctors, not the patients), the medical professional may assure that whatever law is enacted won't reduce costs.

This is what happened with Medicare. As Selig Greenberg, medical writer for the Providence (R.I.) Journal-Bulletin, noted in his book, "The Quality of Mercy":

"Once it became obvious that some form of health insurance for the elderly would be passed by Congress, the AMA argued successfully for Part B of Medicare (which co-insures fee-for-service payment to physicians), and therby sponsored the most inflatinary part of that legislation."

THEY'RE AT IT again. With a score of national health insurance bills under consideration in Congress, AMA is lobbying to keep the present system, with the doctor's "free choice," as part of whatever is enacted.

This can make the resulting legislation another treasury raid, instead of what it should be: A system offering health care to all at reasonable cost which can reasonably be supported by taxes.

The present system of dispensing health care in the United States is discriminatory, inefficient, and needlessly expensive. Instead of opposing national health insurance for fear it will alter that system, the medical profession and its allies would do well to cooperate in devising a non-discriminartory, efficient, and less costly system. If they did, perhaps national health insurance would not even be needed.

New Congress To Be Unruly: Republicans Gave Up Easily

LEADERSHIP WORRIED ABOUT NEW CONGRESS. Senior Democrats in the House and Senate uneasily expect:

1—An unruly and undisciplined Democratic Congress.

3—Great difficulty in developing anything approaching a Democratic legislative program on inflation and the economy. Reason: Neither the Democrats nor the Republicans offered the voters any program. They ran on complaints.

WHY SO MANY DEMOCRATS WON. Obviously, rising inflation and rising unemployment and Watergate hurt the Republicans. But Republicans hurt themselves; many defaulted.

Expecting defeat, the Republican Party could not find attractive new candidates to run for office.

A total of 53 Democrats were unopposed for House seats.

THE PERIL OF A NEW MIDDLE EAST WAR. Every correspondent in Israel and the Arab countries is reporting that war is nearly inevitable.

The Palestine Liberation Organization, led by Yasser Arafat, is openly proclaiming that Israel "is planning an attack."

It could mean just the opposite — the PLO accusing Israel of planning to renew the war so that the PLO can renew the war.

The greatest danger is that renewed fighting in the Middle East could draw the U.S. and Russia into the conflict.

RICHARD NIXON CAN PAY HIS BILLS. The former president is not in financial straits. Rumor of a large advance guarantee for his post-resignation book is now reality.

Warner Communications has signed a contract with Nixon guaranteeing him $2 million. This could be spread over 10 years at $200,000 a year.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN ON ROCKEFELLER? The Democratically controlled Senate Judiciary Committee indicates it will not permit a vote until the new Congress convenes on Jan. 3.

This means that the Democratic leadership is keeping the United States from having a vice president for at least 136 days.

That seems reckless in the extreme.

If the vote is against Rockefeller, the senators will be applying to a vice president — who was no decision-making authority and rarely votes — requirements of financial disclosure they refuse to apply to themselves. They have far greater potential conflicts of interest than the vice president.

WASHINGTON WINDOW

Our Federal Lawmakers Always Kind To The Loophole Industry

By ARNOLD B. SAWISLAK

WASHINGTON (UPI) — All schoolchildren know that Washington is the place where the nation's laws are made. What the books don't tell them is that it also is loophole manufacturing center of the United States.

Recently, President Ford signed a new law that, among other things, strictly limits campaign contributions, by individuals and by organizations. Before, as they say, the ink on the President's signature was dry, the loophole industry most surely was gearing up to meet the new challenge.

Scene 1: The offices of Dilly, Dally, Dolittle and Delay. J. Wyatt Dilly, the senior partner, has assembled the firm's staff.

Dilly: Gentlemen, we have a problem. The new campaign finance bill has been signed, and it poses some problems for certain of our clients who wish to continue their patriotic and altruistic practice of pumping the long green into election campaigns. The law says no organization can contribute more than $5,000 to any candidate. I want you all to report back to me within 24 hours with some solutions. Proceed on the basis that some of our clients will want to contribute $50,000 or more to campaigns.

SCENE 2: Same place, next day.

J. Wyatt Grind, DDD&D's loophole specialist, stands before Dilly with his head down.

Grind: Chief, I've failed. All the old loopholes seem to be plugged by this damn thing. We can't use the old dodge of contributing before the official campaigns start; we can't launder our clients' money by passing it through other committees; we can't even have them give their executives bonuses with instructions to pass them on as campaign contributions. That damn Watergate has ruined all the classic old dodges.

Dilly: Proliferation? Like nuclear weapons?

Brightboy: Well, no sir. Like committees.

DILLY: WHAT ARE YOU talking about young man?

Brightboy: Well, sir, you remember the fine loophole our tax division came up with in 1972 so that big contributors could avoid paying gift tax on donations of more than $3,000. We simply had the candidates form hundreds of separate campaign committees and split up the donations into parcels of $2,999.

Perhaps we could reverse the process this year and have our clients split thsmselves up into hundreds of committees, each of which could donate $5,000 to the same candidate.

For example, our client, the Cobblestone Paving Institute, could proliferate into the Wooden Paving Block Political Action Committee, the Oblong Asphalt Cube Cobblestone Committee for Good Government and the Experimental High Impact Plastic Surface Institute Political Action Reform Association.

Then, of course, our labor union client could follow suit. Instead of simply contributing as the United Paving Block Workers of America, it could proliferate into the International Brotherhood of Cobblestone Subsurface Preparation Employes, the Amalgamated Street Brick Journeymen and Helpers and the American Cobblestone Guild. Then each one would form a political education committee and educate each of their favorite candidates by $5,000.

DILLY: GENTLEMEN, I ask you all to rise. We have been privileged to be present at the birth of a great, perhaps, classic loophole. Young man, you are a credit to our calling. And Grind, we have some filing work that needs catching up. See the office manager on your way out.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Election Won't Change Anything; Same Do-Nothing Crew In Control

WASHINGTON — That the outcome of the election will change anything, other than the political landscape looking to 1976, is an illusion that will not long survive the counting of the votes.

Issues were oversimplified or ignored in a campaign marked by yawning apathy, so when the Congress returns it is highly unlikely that any serious action will be taken on the growing threat to America's stability and well being.

The unbridled use of gasoline in the private motor car is proving, with time running out, that President Ford's voluntarism is simply not working. And that is directly related to the possibility — indeed the probability — of another Middle East war with another oil embargo.

THE FIRST MOVE by a returning Congress should be to resolve the mess over foreign aid. That would include the $250 million for Egypt which Sec. of State Henry Kissinger intimated during his earlier shuttle diplomacy would be forthcoming. It would go to rebuild the ruins along the Suez Canal. Those ruins are untouched as Egypt's President Anwar Sadat is reported to anticipate another war making reconstruction futile.

Such a move would support Kissinger in his present effort to salvage the basis for negotiation that he achieved during his marathon diplomacy earlier this year. He went back to the Middle East this time empty-handed.

Next in the order of priority should be stern measures to conserve gasoline. The reduction of a million barrels of oil a day will never be achieved by voluntarism. Gasoline rationing or an across-the-board cut in petroleum imports is essential, even without the drastic consequences of a new embargo resulting from still another war.

ANYONE WHO THINKS this will happen is living in a dream world. It is the same old Congress, with the same old men in control of the key committees and the key decisions under the committee system.

These are not bad men. In fact, they are conscientious and for the most part well meaning. It just happens that they are prisoners of a past that takes no account of a world in the throes of revolutionary change.

The new Congress that meets in January, with even more top-heavy Democratic majorities, will be very much like the expiring 93rd. Although there may be exceptions, the same leaders and the same committee chairmen will be re-elected to their present posts.

SPEAKER CARL ALBERT first came to the House 26 years ago. He was elected majority leader in the 87th Congress and speaker in the 92nd. A sad commentary on the sticky tangle between the executive and the legislative branches is that the vote on confirmation of Nelson Rockefeller to be vice president is unlikely to come until some time in 1975. During this interval, the amiable speaker would become president if Gerald Ford should not complete his term.

Mike Mansfield of Montana has been majority leader of the Senate since 1961. He is a decent human being who finds it difficult, if not impossible, to produce any semblance of unity with the satraps ruling over their own committee principalities.

One of the most notorious of these satraps is Sen. Russell Long of Louisiana, elected to the Senate in 1950 and, thanks to seniority, made chairman of the finance committee in 1966. He bottled up the trade reform act which may now, after months and months of delay, reach the Senate floor for an uncertain fate.

ONE CHANGE has occurred. Sen. J. William Fulbright, defeated for reelection in the Democratic primary in Arkansas, was for 15 years chairman of the foreign relations committee. In that post, he performed invaluable service in subjecting foreign policy to searching analysis and criticism. Fulbright will be replaced, thanks to the seniority escalator, by Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama, who is content to take a somnolent view of whatever comes along from the executive.

There may have been a time when this nation could afford two years of jockeying for position looking to a presidential election two years hence. That time has long since passed.

As we drift on a do-nothing course, the sound of the falls, the frightening events just ahead, grows louder and louder.

Time To Re-evaluate Position Of UC President

By EARL G. WATERS

The announced retirement plans of University of California President Charles J. Hitch provide an opportunity to re-evaluate the importance of the position.

Hitch was named president in 1967 at a salary of $45,000 a year. Under the terms of a secret contract, which took a court action to force into the open, he was also granted other "emoluments" which brought his total compensation to an estimated $150,000.

These fringe benefits included a free million-dollar estate, servants, a limousine and liveried chauffeur. The free mansion included all operating expenses, even the light and phone bills. In addition, Hitch was provided with $1,000 a month tax-free "pocket" money and a generous and unusual retirement. Since that time his salary has been generously increased until now it is $59,000. That is $10,000 more than the governor's salary. Also upped was his pocket money, by $3,000 a year, which is more than one being paid minimum wages would earn in a year.

THE EXPLANATION for such lavish expenditures to compensate the UC president was that such a great university was deserving of the most capable person available as its head. It was claimed that in order to recruit that kind of person; it was necessary to provide these "extras" in addition to a salary which exceeded that of the governor.

That argument might have been swallowed but for the facts of the situation. Hitch was not known as a great educator. His forte supposedly was more that of a business manager. He was already on the payroll so he didn't have to be "recruited." He had happily accepted a vice presidency months before at a much lower salary and without any of the fringe benefits, not even a residence.

It is true that Hitch ascended during a period of troubled times marked by violence on the campuses. But one can hardly credit Hitch for solving these problems. It was a phenomena being witnessed on campuses throughout the nation, and has since evaporated, at least on the surface.

Neither would it be fair to blame Hitch for the fact that during his administration the budget has doubled in spite of dwindling enrollments. This same remarkable situation is occurring with the state colleges and other publicly financed educational systems.

HITCH'S RETIREMENT apparently is of his own choosing, although there has been some suggestion that it is not being discouraged by the regents. In any event, one need not worry about his future, since the secret contract provides he shall receive $16,000 a year pension for his short 6½ years of service, far more than he would have earned under normal university retirement provided for all others. Besides, since his home and most all other living expenses were provided, he should have salted away his salary to give himself a nice nest egg.

The reevaluation of the position with a view to hiring a successor should consider, among other things, the fact that the people of the state would feel better about paying taxes for the support of the university if more of their money were being used in providing education and less being diverted to enriching the select few who are chosen to administer the school.

The regents can do more for education if they worry more about the programs and less about finding some "outstanding" personality upon whom to heap munificence.

WORTH SAYING AGAIN

They never pardon who commit the wrong. — John Dryden.

An open mind is all very well in its way, but it ought not to be so open that there is no keeping anything in or out of it. It should be capable of shutting its doors sometimes, or it may be found a little draughty. — Samuel Butler.

Advice For Candidates Who Won Higher Posts

To all successful candidates that went for a higher postion:

Stand in front of a mirror and say, "Was I elected because I was so good or put in another position to get rid of me?"

Sometimes politicians are elected because they are big frogs in a small puddle and do nothing, so they are put in a higher office where they are little frogs in a big puddle. They still don't do anything, but are least offensive to the general public.

Story Stressing Dangers Of Alcohol Appreciated

Congratulations on Barbara Hosmer's excellent story of Nov. 1 headed "Alcohol Said Behind Most Crimes."

This is the type of straight-forward reporting so badly needed to help Americans face the reality alcohol is a powerful drug that directly affects the central nervous system.

Certainly, I and most of my friends (and many generations before and after us) have accepted alcoholic drinks as part of our lives — without really knowing what we were drinking.

One of the primary objectives of our new non-moralistic alcohol education program is to give youngsters facts about alcohol upon which to base their own decisions to drink or not to drink when the time comes — and the time seems to be coming at an earlier and earlier age.

May I correct one small statement in Barbara's story: Our educational program, patterned after a successful one conducted in Contra Costa last year, is for grades kindergarten through eight, with special emphasis on four, five and six. Co-sponsors are the Alcohol Information Committee, County Superintendent of Schools Office, Marin Institute, and Community Mental Health Services.

To date, schools in all but two small districts have requested the program.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Nov. 8, 1964

In the wake of Sen. Barry M. Goldwater's trouncing in the presidential race, Republican leaders revived the name of Richard M. Nixon as a possible future standard-bearer.

A group of Marin and San Francisco investors purchased the 760-acre Burdell Ranch north of Novato for about $1 million.

20 YEARS AGO

Nov. 8, 1954

The Senate met in extraordinary session to consider censure of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wis. — the first such session in its history.

CAPITOL QUIPS

By PHIL DESSAUER

President Ford didn't ask for a majority of Republicans in Congress, but he was hoping to keep enough for a minority.

Let's not antagonize the Rockefeller brothers too much. They may get sore and sell this entire country to Kuwait.

Washington is badly overcrowded with lawyers, most of them in Congress or Judge Sirica's court.

WHAT OTHER EDITORS SAY

(Reprinted from Christian Science Monitor)

Congress certainly seemed veto-proof in trying to improve the American people's access to the official information that is rightfully theirs in a government of the people. After going along with President Ford on most of the changes he wanted, the Senate approved the compromise freedom-of-information bill by voice vote, and only two representatives voted against it in the House.

But Mr. Ford vetoed it anyway, although he is on record in favor of open government.

WHEN CONGRESS RETURNS, it ought to vote its apparent convictions and promptly override this veto. If by any chance it does not, the public will hear one more hollow note in congressional criticism of the executive for lack of action.

At stake in the Ford-vetoed amendments to the 1966 Freedom of Information Act are aids to effective public use of the access to government information guaranteed by the law. In various ways the new provisions define and accentuate the burden on governmental agencies to comply with the law rather than bureaucratically avoid it.

For example, Congress recognizes some categories of materials exempt from disclosure. But it wants to discourage classification of information simply to circumvent disclosure. The new law would call on federal district courts to decide in camera whether contested material was properly classified — and would empower the courts to order release of improperly withheld documents.

MR. FORD OPPOSES giving the courts this role. He also wants agencies to have more time for compliance, though Congress has already extended the time limits while seeking to discourage inordinate delaying tactics.

The potential for abuse of government secrecy has become all too evident in recent years. Now if ever is the time for Congress to follow through on preserving the people's right to know.

Engineers Disclaim Credit For Re-Design Of Miller Avenue

The squabbles in Mill Valley over the Miller Avenue improvement project seem likely to go on for some time, judging from how the subject pops up regularly at civic meetings.

The latest instance was at a city council meeting where Councilman Jean S. Barnard objected to the city constantly hiring consultants to draw up involved plans and designs for areas of Mill Valley.

IN A RECENT article on the Miller Avenue project, I mentioned that the design was drawn up by Sasaki-Walker, landscape architects of Sausalito, and Bala and Strandgaard, the city's former civil engineering consulting firm.

However, Stanley Bala has denied any responsibility for the design itself. "They had the landscape architects design it, and then they came to me and said, 'Make it work.' "

He said he objects strongly to putting street design into the hands of landscape architects.

In spite of the furor over Miller Avenue, the city's new fulltime city engineer, Henry Van Dyke, notes that a similar setup has worked well on Berkeley's Shattuck Avenue. "And there were difficulties there, too, with implementation. There's nothing wrong with the basic concept, although there are certain details in the scheme with which I disagree."

The two-block project has eliminated traditional middle-of-the-street parking on part of Miller and has set up large parking bays on one side of the avenue.

IT HAS BEEN MORE than two years since residents of Tiburon approved a $1.25 million open space bond issue. So far, only $250,000 of the money has been spent on a 30-acre ridgetop parcel.

What's taking so long?

City Mgr. Robert L. Kleinert explains that the city council has been bogged down in negotiations with stubborn landowners who want more for their property than the city wants to pay. Meanwhile, the price of land has been soaring in Marin, a fact which could make it hard for the city to ever achieve its goal of buying a total of 125 acres with the money.

The city's bond money has not been sitting idle, but is earning between 9 and 11 per cent per year. The city only has to pay out about 5 per cent per year to the investors who bought the bonds.

But this rosy situation may end soon. According to Kleinert, federal regulations require the city to spend two-thirds of the bond money in the next year or it will no longer be able to invest the funds at a higher percentage rate than it is paying out.

Runaway Bike Mart Has Economic Flat

NEW YORK (AP) — Inflation and a weak economy have caught up with the runaway bicycle market.

After riding high for nearly three years, bike sales are slowing down, leaving retailers with large inventories and forcing manufacturers to lay off workers. Predictions of a slow Christmas season are common in the industry.

"We expected sales this year to be 60 per cent above last year but it's only going to be 20 per cent higher," says a spokesman for a major bicycle retailer.

A bike buyer for another retailer says, "What's happened is that bicycle sales and inventories have been on a fantastic upswing in the last several years. We anticipated sales of 16 million bikes this year, but they were only about 13.5 million. So this season we're on a moderate upswing and we're caught with fantastic inventories. Our orders are down as much as 40 per cent to our manufacturers."

Manufacturers say they have a boom-time labor force but instead of putting it to work filling customary large Christmas orders, they're laying their workers off as much as two months early.

"In the last couple of years we've shipped everything we got our hands on but this year orders are behind 25 to 30 per cent. Instead of laying people off at the end of November as usual, we had to do it at the end of September," says a representative of Murray-Ohio in Nashville, Tenn., the nation's largest bike maker.

Manufacturers say they plan to hire back most of the workers they laid off by the first of 1975. They say retailers will have sold their inventories by then and will be placing spring and summer orders.

"Retailers are going to dump this Christmas. There'll be heavy promotion and price slashing," says a leading retailer, "We can't afford to keep inventories at present prime rate levels and we don't want heavy inventories on high-priced goods with prices starting to come down on raw materials.

Another reason to clear out 1974 bikes by the first of the new year, say retailers, is to stock up on bikes made to meet new federal safety standards.

Under the new regulations, all bikes sold in the United States by May 1, 1975 must have 16 reflectors — among them are four on the pedals, two-sided reflectors on the spokes of each wheel and reflectory tires to give motorists the whole outline of a bike at night. Bike brakes must make prescribed stops at certain speeds and nothing on the bike can extend five inches above the seat.

The slump in bike sales comes after several years of fast-increasing sales after adults in large numbers started taking to the road on two wheels.

Leisure time and health concerns helped send annual bike sales from 9 million in 1971 to a high of 15.5 million in 1973 when the energy crisis sparked the greatest surge of adult riders in the industry's history.

Racial Bias Settlement Reached With Posh Clubs

DETROIT (UPI) — An out-of-court settlement was announced Oct. 25 in a six-year dispute that embroiled two of Detroit's plushest clubs in charges they practice racial discrimination.

Under a consent judgment with the city, the Detroit Yacht Club and the Detroit Boat Club, both located on city-owned property on Belle Isle, agreed to appoint black and other minority group members to their membership committees.

The clubs also agreed to invite "qualified black persons" from the Detroit metropolitan area to join, but said the persons invited would be of the club's own choosing.

The yacht club has 2,737 members, including two blacks who joined in 1971 and 1973 when the city intensified a campaign to force the clubs to end alleged discrimination.

The Detroit Boat Club has 776 members, none of them black.

The judgment said the clubs, as private organizations, are exempt from the federal Civil Rights Act of 1964.

But both said they already have undertaken to full evidence a bonafide policy that membership in those clubs shall not be refused any person because of race, creed, color or national origin.

The integration case was to open Wednesday before U.S. District Judge Ralph M. Freeman.

But, minutes before arguments were to begin, lawyers asked Freeman to give them one more week to negotiate a settlement.

The issue has special implications in Detroit, where blacks make up nearly 50 per cent of the 1.6 million population and where the city's first black mayor took office Jan. 1.

The case against the club stems from a 1967 policy by the commission on community relations that ordered the clubs to integate or leave Belle Isle.

The day before the policy came into force the two clubs filed a federal court suit to block the commission. They ob-

Harried Mother Wonders Why She Has To Do Teacher's Job

DEAR HELEN:

This is how it's going to be from now till school is out: homework!

We have five children. Each brings home about two hours of "school." Who ends up suffering? Mom!

Some children are luckier than mine. Their parents are college graduates. Sometimes my high schoolers' homework stumps me.

But mostly it's the time. From kindergartner's alphabet drill to third grader's flash cars, to junior high multiplication tables, to sophomore biology and math — how does one mother do it all? And don't say, "Make the child do it." How many parents end up toiling over homework so that the kids don't end up in tears — or flunk?

We teach our children manners, give them religious guidance, try to instill right from wrong. Then we send them out to school for an education, and the educators send it right back to us. They are being paid to teach, why should we parents do a large per cent of their work?

Do other mothers feel this way? — BRAIN-DRAINED

DEAR B-D:

I don't know. Let's ask them.

Comments, parents? — HELEN

DEAR HELEN:

I have a friend who manages a small apartment house. I've seen her rummage through her tenants' mail, read cars, etc. She stands behind her window draperies, spying on who visits whom.

When someone has company, she makes a pretext of visiting so she can snoop. She has a key to each apartment and "inspects" while the tenants are away.

She's even been seen rummaging through apartment garbage cans! Do you suppose she is getting senile or is she just plain nosey, and should the tenants be told? — PERPLEXED FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND:

If the tenants aren't already aware and complaining, then perhaps your "friend" isn't as nosey as you think. Why not let them manage their own problems? — H.

DEAR HELEN:

So many people seem to consider the United States as the only country in the world. Here's something to consider:

If we looked at today's world as if it held only 100 people; there would be 70 who would be able to read, one who would have a college education, 50 who would be suffering from malnutrition, and 80 would be living in what we call substandard housing. If we also looked at this global village of 100 persons, we would find that 6 would be Americans who have half the village's entire income, and 94 people would exist on the other half. — READER

A showing of 60 quilts, tea, sale and demonstrations will be features of the annual event, sponsored by Sunny Hills Guild No. 5 of Belvedere-Tiburon.

Items for sale will be quilts, macrame hangings, Christmas ornaments, plants, candles and handcrafted items.

Two Sunny Hills members will demonstrate their skills. Virginia McEvers, a professional quilter, will work at a frame and demonstrate how to make a contemporary velvet and cotton quilt. LaVern Walsh will work on an old-fashioned Log Cabin design at a quilting frame.

'Bless Man' Pageant Scheduled

More than 30 Marin residents will take part in performances of the holiday pageant, "Bless Man," coming to the Masonic Auditorium in San Francisco Dec. 7 and 8.

It is a show presented by the Creative Initiative Foundation, with headquarters in Palo Alto.

The foundation originated in 1962 and seeks to help individuals perceive their roles in a world that can only survive through unity of goals and effort: "the world needs cooperation, and cooperation starts with me," in the words of Mrs. Beswick.

The pageant, featuring handmade flags and authentic costumes from many nations of the world, presents "a vision of a world without war, a world of free people, a world in which all races, religions and people cooperate for the good of all."

More than 500 persons participate in the performances, presented this year for the fourth year.

Mrs. Beswick said the performances have always been sold out. Ticket information can be obtained from the Beswicks or by writing "Bless Man," Post Office box 7009, Menlo Park 94025.

Holiday Baking Program Planned

Holiday baking ideas and elegant ways to decorate cakes and cookies will be demonstrated in a three-hour workshop at 7 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 3, in Classroom 30 of the MacPhail School. The program will be presented under auspices of the Gallinas Village Community Services District.

Ideas for tree ornaments with sugar molding will also be presented by instructor Eileen Womble.

Shortening Cuff An Inch Is Easy

By EUNICE FARMER
(Distributed by Register and Tribune Syndicate)

DEAR EUNICE,

Professionally made pants have such nice cuffs that when I disturb them to shorten my pants, I can never get such a nice cuff again. Is there a way to shorten the cuffs just one inch and not remove the cuff? — MRS. W. T.

DEAR MRS. W. T.,

You are lucky since you only need to shorten the pants 1 inch. You could actually shorten them 2 inches without taking out the cuffs — simply take a fold in the length of the pants just below the top of the cuffs inside of the pants.

If you have to shorten them more than 2 inches, make a seam just below the top of the cuffs and cut out the excess length.

With the permanent press fabrics, it is very difficult to remove the original press marks and equally difficult to press a new cuff as well as the original.

DEAR EUNICE,

When I put interfacing into the collar of my garments, the corners become too bulky and when they are turned to the right side, there is an extra bulge at the corners. What am I doing wrong? — MRS. T.E.R.

DEAR MRS. T.E.R.,

By allowing the interfacing to come all the way to the corners, there are too many layers of fabric to be turned into such a small space. Before stitching the corners, clip off the interfacing just beyond the stitching line, at an angle across the collar points. Now, when the collar is turned, the interfacing will come almost to the end of the collar but will not appear bulky because it was not included in the seam.

There have been so many questions from all my readers concerning interfacing, linings and underlinings that I am happy to be able to offer you a very informative leaflet called "Shape Fashion." If you would like a copy of this leaflet, which includes step by step instructions with illustrations, send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents to cover the cost of handling to Eunice Farmer c/o the Independent-Journal, PO Box 330, 1040 B St., San Rafael, Ca. 94902.

DEAR EUNICE,

I have questions concerning two fabrics, both made of Qiana. The bride's gown is to be made from Qiana satin, a beautiful woven fabric with a soft satin face. The other, for the bridesmaids, is of Qiana satin knit. Since this is a new type of fabric for me, please give me some instructions on how to handle these, type of machine needle, stitch length, linings, etc. — MRS. B. McD.

DEAR MRS. B.McD.,

First, let's discuss the Qiana satin for the bridal gown. Since this is a woven fabric, you must consider the style of the garment and then decide whether you wish to underline it (treat the two layers of fabric as one).

You will use a regular machine needle, preferably a small size such as a 9 or 11. Use very fine dressmaker pins. Be sure to use a polyester thread. Satins of all types are difficult to rip, the stitches will show, so be sure to prefit the garment first, then cut it out of the Qiana.

Since Qiana is a nylon, your iron must not be too hot. Always press lightly on the wrong side, never so hard that it has an "ironed" look. Qiana, like any luxury satin fabric, should look almost unpressed.

For the Qiana satin knit, use ball point machine needles and pins. This fabric may have a free hanging lining; it is never underlined. Often, the bodice will be lined in another layer of the same fabric for compatibility. Usually, you wouldn't use lace at the hem. Instead use stitch witchery, a web-type bonding,or a self binding.

Since Qiana knit will stretch, be careful when applying the zipper. Do not stretch it more than the zipper tape or it will pucker. Hair-braid is used more for the hems of chiffon and organza. I don't think I would like it with Qiana knit.

Since you are familiar with both of these fabrics, it would pay to do some test stitching and pressing to see exactly how it will handle. This extra caution could save a lot of time and money.

Make a cape for fall. Directions are complete in the leaflet, "Flip Cape." For your copy, send 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Eunice Farmer c/o the Independent-Journal, PO Box 330, 1040 B St., San Rafael, Ca. 94902.

Anniversary To Be Marked

The Marin Alumnae Chapter of Sigma Kappa is celebrating the 100th anniversary of the national sorority this week by presenting a violet plant to the Hill Road Convalescent Hospital in Novato.

Participating in the presentation are Ann Carlson of Tiburon, chapter president; Fredolin Gregory of Novato; Jan Walker of San Rafael, and Pat Freeman of Terra Linda.

Gerontology has been a national philanthropy of the sorority since 1956 and alumnae chapters are "Marking the Years with Hours" — working 100 volunteer hours or more with the elderly throughout the centennial year.

ON THE AGENDA

Novato Museum Guild To Hold Benefit Plant Party Thursday

The Novato Prehistory Museum Guild will sponsor a benefit plant party next Thursday at 10 a.m. at the museum, 2200 Novato Boulevard.

Andrea Innocenti of Party Plants of Novato will exhibit a wide variety of houseplants and discuss their care. She will also display decorative containers and plant accessories.

The event is open to the public.

SAN FRANCISCO physician and acupuncturist, Dr. Jane Lee, will be the guest speaker at the University of California Alumni Club of Marin Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Art and Garden center.

"HOW WILL WE Finance Our Schools?" will be the topic of the Ross Valley Council Parent-Teacher Association meeting Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Marin County Schools Office, 201 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera.

Guest speaker will be Joe Amato, director of business advisory services of the county schools office. Amato is former superintendent of the Lagunitas School District and former assistant superintendent of the Sausalito School District.

The meeting is open to the public. Those P-TAs belonging to the council are Bacich, Central, Neil Cummins, Deer Park, Drake, Greenbrae, Henry C. Hall, A.E. Kent, Lagunitas, Larkspur-Corte Madera, Manor, Redwood, Ross, San Clemente and White Hill.

PSYCHOLOGIST SISTER Pauline Mary Kennedy will be the guest speaker at a public meeting of St. Anselm's Parent-Teacher Group Thursday at 8 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

"Building Self-Esteem in Your Child" will be her topic. Reservations can be made through the school.

BEL MARIN KEYS Women's Club members will be hostesses at a Japanese luncheon at noon Thursday at the community center. A social hour will begin at 11 a.m.

Flank steak with Bok Choy, vegetables, including soy bean cake, mushrooms, onions and bean threads, will be cooked in the traditional Sukiyaki fashion. There will also be a ceremonial table demonstration.

Janet King, a caterer, has made a donation to the Women's Club for its silent auction — a catered dinner of French cuisine for six to be served in the winner's home during the month of January or February.

THE NOVATO Squares Square Dance Club will be hosts at an intermediate level square dance at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at Novato High School, 625 Arthur Street, Novato.

The caller will be Roy Birdson and hosts are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Vince South.

UPSILON GAMMA Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority will be hostesses at a preferential tea honoring new pledges at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the home of Nora Gerrard, 10 Roca Court, Novato.

A pledge ritual to install the new members will be held at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 20 at the home of Marilyn Wegg.

Divergent Group For Radio Shows

Jorie Parr will interview a divergent group of guests next week on her KTIM feature program, "Jorie Talks," heard Mondays through Thursdays at 9:30 a.m.

On Monday, Leonard C. Schwarz, filmmaker and author from Mill Valley, will discuss cult films such as "Harold and Maude" and "King of Hearts." He will also discuss the Humphrey Bogart mystique.

Nan Koehler of Novato, botanist specializing in the use of herbs, will share the microphone on Tuesday. On Wednesday, Joan Lisetor of San Rafael, president of the troubled Marin Shakespeare Festival, will be interviewed on the ups and downs of the theatrical endeavor.

Designer Jane Tise of Fairfax, just returned from London, Paris and Milan, will give highlights on the big change in women's fashion on Thursday's show.

Classes Offered In Belly Dancing

The Petaluma Recreation Department is offering belly dancing classes beginning Nov. 14. Instructor is Karla Lutz. Classes will be held on Thursdays at the Five Corners Community Center in Petaluma.

Beginning students will dance at 4:30 p.m. and at 5:30 p.m. and intermediates at 6:30 p.m. Fee for the six week courses is $10.50.

Ms. Lutz has a bachelor of arts degree in dance and has danced professionally in fields of ballet and modern dance.

Two Needlework Workshops Slated

Kathleen Rake will instruct two workshops Nov. 19 at the Marin Young Women's Christian Association, 1618 Mission Avenue in San Rafael.

A morning workshop from 10 a.m. to noon will cover bargello. Participants may bring their own yarn, canvas and tapestry needle or purchase them at the workshop.

From 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. the workshop will cover knitting, crocheting, rug hooking and broomstick lace.

Today's Styles Favor The Pregnant

The Christian Science Monitor News Service

NEW YORK, N.Y. — The big top, the big skirt, the cape, who could ask for anything more? Certainly not the expectant mother.

If ever there was a year when styles favored the pregnant, this is it, from smock tops to caftans. Even some of the nonpregnant have taken to buying clothes in maternity shops (where prices can be lower). One such store, which stocks cover-ups at from $15 to $60, lures the nonexpectant in with a sign in the window that reads, "You don't have to be pregnant . . ."

Capitalizing on this year's fuller, looser, longer clothes, Lady Madonna, a chain of maternity boutiques that specializes in high fashions suited to the life-styles of today's new mothers, is telling the world, via its ads, "We have the 'Big' look."

Their line, aimed at swinging young mothers-to-be who take the frank approach toward the condition of pregnancy, includes every contemporary style. Their point of view is the antithesis of the old "something dark with a touch of white around the face" principle that the more one drew attention away from the facts to life, the better.

Lester Hyatt, the young designer for Lady Madonna, reaches for the very latest and sometimes is ahead of the mainstream of Seventh Avenue styles. For fall and winter, there is a quilted jacket with roomy pockets and shirttail hem. This can go over pants with drawstring waist or the sweater dress with attached tunnel hood. Knit jumpers and cotton velour pantsuits are among the snappy day looks. Party pajamas and diagonal-cut matte jersey dresses are among Hyatt's contemporary evening styles.

Started five years ago by Rick Teifer, whose wife, Joanne, could not find any maternity clothes she liked in the stores, Lady Madonna has been consistently nontraditional. The first showings featured servings of ice cream and pickles for all. New York's top mannequins always grace the runway at Lady Madonna openings, stepping lively through their paces with pillows tied around the middles of their superlean bodies — for that bulging touch of realism.

The company has expanded from its first shop on Madison Avenue to 33 licensed boutiques throughout the country, including one in San Jose, and also sells to shops in Canada, London and Puerto Rico. Customers are young women who spend around $100 on a maternity wardrobe, and prices are geared to their budgets. Since the clothes will be worn after the baby comes as well as before, they have inflation-beating appeal besides fashion rightness.

Gift Workshop Being Offered

If you've always wanted to be one of those clever people who make their own Christmas gifts, an all-day workshop and demonstration will be offered on Saturday, Nov. 16, in Room 30 of MacPahil's School under auspices of the Gallinas Village Community Services District.

Early registration at the district office is required. At that time, a list of scrap materials will be provided for participants. Fee for the workshop is $4.

Session Slated For Overeaters

Members of Overeaters Anonymous from Marin and other Bay Area counties will attend a marathon meeting tomorrow from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. at the new Bay Area Central Office, 5359 College Avenue in Oakland.

Also invited to attend are those with overeating problems and persons connected with the healing and counseling professions.

Overeaters Anonymous was formed 14 years ago in Los Angeles and is based on the principles of Alcoholics Anonymous. Information on meetings in Marin County can be obtained from the central office.

'Junktique' Sale Set Next Week

A "Giant Junktique Sale" to benefit the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Marin will be held Nov. 15 and 16 at the Methodist Church, 9 Ross Valley Drive, San Rafael.

Sale hours are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. both days. Mitzi Staley of San Anselmo is sale chairman assisted by fund raising committee members Jackie Endriss, Arden Valasek, Gail Gereghty and John Gill. Others working on the event are Pat Cimina, Sally Feldberg, Liz McClintock, Marilyn Lewis and Wendy Knowles.

Two Are Killed In Powder Blast

ROOSEVELT, Utah (UPI) — An explosion leveled a black powder plant yesterday killing two employees and scattering men and debris over a mile of sagebrush country.

An eyewitness said the narrow, three-story steel building "just disappeared" after the blast.

The victims were identified as Fred Anderson and Lester Holt, both of Roosevelt and both described as experienced powder men.

Stage Bands To Compete At College

Several Marin and Southern Sonoma high school stage bands will be among the 58 groups competing at the fifth annual Redwood Empire Stage Band Festival on Nov. 23 at Sonoma State College in Rohnert Park.

The day's events will begin at 8 a.m. in Ives Hall of Music, where the bands will perform before judges in 20-minute sets. Trophies and awards will be presented at the end of the day.

The Sonoma State College Concert Jazz Ensemble under the direction of Walter Oster will give a performance during the 1 to 2 p.m. lunch break, and afternoon workshops are planned in brass and woodwind playing and jazz improvisation, according to a spokesman.

Local bands, their directors and performance times, are: Petaluma High School jazz ensemble, John Schuster, 8:20 a.m.; Terra Linda High School Lab Band, Gordon Lowe, 2 p.m.; Terra Linda High School Jazz Ensemble, Charley Gray, 2:20 p.m.; San Rafael High School Jazz Ensemble, Charlene Wilkerson, 4:20 p.m.; Terra Linda High School's Bob Elkjer Trio, Bob Elkjer, 6 p.m., and San Rafael High School Stage Band, Charlene Wilson, 6:20 p.m.

Admission will be 50 cents a person.

Mad Madam

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Brothel owner Beverly Harrell said today she is demanding a recount of the vote in Tuesday's election, charging the ballots were tampered with to keep her out of the Nevada Legislature because she is a madam.

Rommel's Son Seeks Election

STUTTGART, Germany (UPI) — Manfred Rommel, son of Erwin Rommel, the "Desert Fox" of the Nazi Africa Korps, is up for election as mayor of Stuttgart.

Rommel, a state secretary at the finance ministry, is running on a Christian Democratic Party ticket and has told his public, "I am not running as someone's son, but as a man who has achieved something by himself."

His election slogan is "He Does What He Says."

RUSSIAN ROCK PROPAGANDA

Beleaguered BART Board Liberated By 1st Woman

OAKLAND (AP) — For the first time in its 17-year history, a woman sits on the all-elective board of directors of the beleaguered Bay Area Rapid Transit system

Ella Hill Hutch was elected Tuesday to the board's Dist. 7 seat, encompassing eastern San Francisco and part of Oakland.

Five other new board members and three incumbents also were elcted from among the 138 candidates, forming the first fully elected BART board since the system began in 1957.

Ms. Hutch promised to act as a consumer spokesman on the BART board and to seek free rides for senior citizens, students and persons on welfare.

The election shifted the board's balance of power toward those who favored a hard line with companies accused of selling BART shoddy equipment.

Incumbent BART board president Nello J. Bianco drew the largest number of votes 837,036 — in winning the Dist. 2 seat, covering Richmond and eastern Contra Costa County.

The other two winning incumbents were James D. Hill of Dist. 1 central Contra Costa and Richard O. Clark of Dist. 3 Berkeley and Kensington.

The new director for Dist. 4 in Alameda and Oakland is Dr. Harvey W. Glasser, a management consultant.

Incumbent George M. Silliman, the only original member of the BART board was upset in Dist. 6 southern Alameda County by transportation specialist John W. Glenn.

TACKLES PHONE COMPANY

David Wisner's Big Battle

By REBECCA LARSEN

David Wilner of Tiburon has set out to prove that customers can battle a giant utility and win even without the help of big money and big name lawyers.

The utility he has gone after is Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., which he claims is abusing regulations of the state Public Utilities Commission.

A hearing on one of Wilner's complaints was held this week before the commission. As a result, the company could be forced to roll back prices on some equipment sold to business firms or may have fines levied against it. The commission's decision will not be announced for a few weeks.

Wilner, a telephone communications consultant, has become so fired up over his cause that about a year ago he organized a new consumers group to take on utilities. Consumers Lobby Against Monopolies (CLAM) is a one-man endeavor operating out of Wilner's basement.

He now devotes most of his energy to the consumer organization even though he still must spend some time earning his living as a consultant.

Wilner's complaint involves the way the phone company handled contracts for installation charges and monthly rates for purchasers of its giant office PBX system.

According to Wilner, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph contracted last fall to install this system for various clients at one price while quietly applying to the utilities commission for higher rates.

When the company applied for these higher charges, says Wilner, it did not notify the PUC that anyone would be affected by the rate change. Such notice is required by law as part of the application.

The firms which bought the new system had gone so far in planning to install it that they could not back out once the rate increase came, Wilner contends.

Two of Wilner's clients were affected by the rate change and along with some other companies, including Levi Strauss, have filed complaints along with Wilner.

Wilner also claims that because of the phone company action, the University of California at Davis will pay $118,000 more than necessary for its phone service over the next five years.

Wilner has filed another complaint involving a similar situation with a smaller telephone company PBX System.

Norman Phillips, a Pacific Telephone assistant vice president who has been involved in answering the Wilner complaint, replies that when the company became aware that rates had to be raised, it immediately informed customers to give them a chance to back out of contracts. "Most of them were not so far enough along in planning that they couldn't pick among our competitors," he says. "But in five cases, the firms didn't have time to switch."

The tive were offered special deals in case they wanted to cancel out once they started with the new system, Phillips said.

At issue, of course, is when the phone company began informing its customers of the rate change.

Phillips admits there was one contract signed with a promise of the old, lower rates after Dec. 7, when the company applied for the higher charges. "This flowed from the difficulty of our getting information out to our salesmen," he says.

All these facts will be sorted out this week by the PUC.

Wilner expects to win and says this won't be the end of his campaign. His next target will be fighting increases to individual home phone users — a rate hike which the telephone company recently applied for.

He hopes to draw a blueprint for other consumer groups to use in fighting other telephone companies across the country. "If I can raise public consciousness to the problems of monopoly power and its relation to democracy, I will have accomplished my goal," he says.

Not according to Wilner: "Most of the other groups I describe as arms and legs jumping up and down outside the building where the utilities commission is meeting. You can't fight utilities by waving signs. You have to meet them in their own jurisdiction. We have all the rules we need in this country to control them. The way to fight is to make them live by their own rules."

Wilner says most consumers of telephone or other utility services don't understand these rules and become quickly snarled in red tape.

For example, he says if a disgruntled customer files a complaint with the utilities commission against the phone company, that consumer is answered by a mountain of legal paperwork from the company. The consumer finds the cost of fighting his case is astronomical in time and money.

But Wilner believes that he, with his expertise in the communications field, knows the necessary shortcuts that can enable him to fight big companies.

CHALLENGER — David Wilner of Tiburon has decided to take on the larger public utilities and has formed a consumer group to watchdog them. Currently he is preparing for a hearing before the State Public Utilities Commission on his charge that Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. is not adhering to PUC regulations.

New Voice Raised Against Marina

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — The state Department of Fish and Game yesterday joined opponents of a proposed $2.2 million marina at the mouth of the Petaluma River, objecting the project would be "inappropriate" so close to vital fish and wildlife areas.

The development not only should go elsewhere, but the site could be restored as a marshland, G. Ray Arnett, director of the department, suggested to the Bay Conservation and Development Commission.

Noting the marina would be adjacent to the newly created San Pablo Bay Refuge and immediately downstream from proposed fish and wildlife refuges in the Petaluma Marsh, Arnett said it "could pose problems for fish and wildlife."

Even in its present state, without remaking it a marsh, the site is a valuable feeding area for birds, especially in winter when it is saturated with water, he said.

The commission will vote on the issue Nov. 21 when it meets at 2 p.m. in Room 1194 of the State Building, 455 Golden Gate Avenue.

Also protesting the permit application by W. Patrick Boland Jr. of Nicasio were Californians Organized to Acquire Access to State Tidelands (COAAST), Madrone Audubon Society, Save San Francisco Bay Association and Patrick H. Heffernan of Black Point.

Several argued Boland never had answered their doubts about sewage disposal, but this issue apparently was settled in a letter from Fred H. Dierker, executive officer of the Regional Water Quality Control Board. He said the proposed septic tank system "will not cause a sewage disposal problem."

Dierker's letter also noted, however, that the Army Corps of Engineers had decided the project was sufficiently controversial to require an environmental impact statement. The corps estimated the statement "will not be completed for approximately a year from now," Dierker reported.

Heffernan, who lives within view of the project site, objected boats in the marina would pollute the river with gasoline and oil and add to an already difficult problem with noise in the river. Heffernan, a director of the North Marin County Water District, said the project "has no firm water supply."

Virginia Hechtman of Jenner, speaking for COAAST, said the project should be denied and returned to the county board of supervisors for its review in January, when it will have two new members. She and others also said Boland's environmental impact (EIR) was wholly inadequate.

Boland declined to answer the challenges raised by opponents of his project. "I don't want to take up your time rebutting these points here," he told the commission, adding "most have been answered in the EIR."

Boland's 112-acre site is on the Sonoma County side of the river mouth, immediately south of the Highway 37 bridge. Planned are a 400-berth marina, 200-seat restaurant, bulk sand depot, barge and boat storage areas, small boat repair facility, yacht sales, dry dock and shops and offices for marine supplies. The application is only for the first phase, 40 boat slips and breaching a dike to flood a previously excavated channel and basin area.

In other business, the commission postponed approval of a permit sought by the Golden Gate Bridge District to expand its San Francisco ferry landing to get assurance that the changes still will permit use of the landing by Harbor Carriers.

Programs Honoring Fallen Vets Planned In Marin And Sonoma

Two special observances are planned Monday in Marin and Sonoma counties to honor the nation's fallen veterans — a special day set aside following World War I and for many years called Armistice Day, but now referred to as Veterans Day.

In Marin, the county's United Veterans Council will present a program at 11 a.m. in the Veterans Memorial Building with Chief M/Sgt. (Ret.) Robert T. Barnes, formerly of Hamilton Air Force Base, as guest speaker. The invocation will be said by Lt. Col. Howard B. Scholten of Hamilton.

Also participating will be members of the Air Force Junior ROTC from Novato High School. Special music will be provided by a flute quartet from Sir Francis Drake High School and the Novato Choraliers directed by Barbara Carter.

In Sonoma, the World War I Veterans will hold a patriotic program at 10 a.m. in the Veterans Memorial Building in the City of Sonoma. The program, open to all Sonoma veterans, will include performances by the Sonoma High School Band and a Coast Guard honor guard and bugler. Following the service, veterans will assemble for a luncheon in the memorial building.

These are the only special programs for a holiday which was once deeply rooted in the years following World War I, billed as the "war to end all wars." World War I ended with the signing of the armistice on Nov. 11, 1918, giving the holiday its original name.

However, during World War II, followed by the Korean and Vietnam wars, the significance of the armistice in World War I faded and following World War II, it was renamed Veterans Day.

Present confusion over what date is really Veterans Day arose when the U.S. government changed the legal holiday to the last Monday in October. Some 37 states, including California, decided the traditional date was better and changed it back to Nov. 11.

This year the holiday fell on Oct. 28 with all federal agencies closed and some Marin cities following the government's edict.

In Marin, the Civic Center and Hall of Justice will be closed, as will municipal and superior courts. The sheriff's office will function as usual. The same pattern will exist in Sonoma County.

It will also be a holiday for all public schools in the two counties, including the College of Marin and Indian Valley Colleges. Sonoma State College, however, will operate as usual.

The Independent-Journal will publish as usual.

Several city and county bodies which normally meet on Monday have rescheduled their meetings. The Corte Madera Planning Commission will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in town hall; the Marin County Schools Personnel Commission has postponed its meeting to 8 p.m. Nov. 18 in the county schools office; the Tiburon City Council will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in city hall, and the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors will hold over its Monday agenda to its regular 10 a.m. meeting on Tuesday.

All city offices will be open in San Rafael, San Anselmo, Fairfax, Mill Valley, Belvedere, Sausalito, Novato, Rohnert Park and Cotati.

Closing all Monday operations will be the cities of Tiburon, Larkspur, Corte Madera, Ross, Kentfield and Petaluma.

Libraries will be closed in Larkspur, Corte Madera, Petaluma and the county library branches.

Parking meters will be in operation in Sausalito, Mill Valley, and San Rafael.

Banks and most businesses will be open.

Study Slated Of Pipeline For Bolinas

Directors of the Bolinas Community Public Utility District have ordered an engineering study for a new pipeline from water tanks on the Bolinas Mesa to downtown, a measure intended to make more water available for firefighting.

Directors Wednesday hired the Mill Valley firm of Bala and Strandgaard for the job. Cost of the study has not yet been determined.

The improvement will involve installation of a larger pipeline connected at Mesa Road to present pipes carrying water from tanks fed by Arroyo Honda Dam, according to Director Judith Weston.

The engineering report is expected to be complete in two or three weeks. Installation of the pipeline is planned for this winter.

In other business, the board hired Bolinas resident Bruce Waite as a ground maintenance man under the federally-funded public employment program. He will be paid between $3.50 and $4 an hour for the full-time post.

Hearing Set For Official

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The Sonoma County Civil Service Commission will hold a hearing at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday on an appeal by a county probation officer who was fired Oct. 22.

Louis Hensley Jr., 49, of Santa Rosa, was dismissed by chief probation officer William Mulligan after sheriff's department investigators reported that juveniles had used Hensley's home as a scene for drug use and sex.

According to county officials, Hensley knew of the illicit activities.

Hensley joined the county department in 1970.

To Attend Game

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, one-time college football player, avid fan and former Navy officer, will attend the Army-Navy game in Philadelphia on Nov. 30.

No State Funds For Creekside

San Rafael will get no state money to buy 17 acres of creekside property near Pickleweek Park, the state department of parks and recreation has reported.

In a letter to the city council date Nov. 1, Parks Director William Penn Mott said the project isn't important enough to get limited state money for land purchases.

The city had asked for $400,000 —half the total cost — from the state, with the rest of the money to come from the city, according to City Mgr. William J. Bielser.

That property is planned for a public use under redevelopment sketch plans presented to the city redevelopment agency last night.

ROBERT A. LAWRENCE
New president

Schoolhouse Foundation Picks Panel

Robert A. Lawrence, a seventh and eighth grade teacher in Miller Creek School, has been elected president of the Dixie Schoolhouse Foundation.

The new president was born in San Francisco 35 years ago. He attended Lincoln High School there and San Francisco State University where he obtained his teaching certificate.

He has been a teacher in the Dixie school district since graduating, or for the past 13 years.

Lawrence is single and lives at 12 Sanchez Road, Forest Knolls.

Elected with him were Dorothy Brown, a member of the Marin County School Board, first vice president and Alice Allair, outgoing president, second vice president; Priscilla and Conald Blinco of Tiburon will be secretary and treasurer respectively.

Grumpiness Put On Feet

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Bad feet are often the cause of teachers' grumpiness, the Academy of Ambulatory Foot Surgeons reports.

Dr. Abram Plon, Elkins Park, Pa., academy president, told the association's annual meeting that teachers tend to suffer from painful corns and bunions because they spend a lot of time on their feet.

He said a survey showed teachers often put off needed surgery because they fear losing time in the classroom. "Consequently, they suffer needlessly," he said.

He said such ailments as corns and bunions can be "easily and quickly corrected through painless surgery in a podiatrist's office."

Cypriots Repeal Ban On Abortion

NICOSIA (UPI) — Women raped by Turkish soldiers during last July's fighting on Cyprus will be allowed to have abortions, a government spokesman said today.

He said the Cyprus House of Representatives has repealed an anti-abortion law to give give rape victims a chance to terminate their pregnancies legally.

ALMANAC

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

Today is Friday, Nov. 8, the 312nd day of 1974, with 53 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn. The evening stars are Jupiter and Venus.

British astronomer Edmond Halley was born Nov. 8, 1656. This is actress Katharine Hepburn's 65th birthday.

On this day in history:

In 1837, Mount Holyoke Seminary in Massachusetts became the first American college founded exclusively for women.

In 1889, Montana was admitted to the Union as the 41st state.

In 1960, Democrat John F. Kennedy defeated Republican Richard NIxon to become the 35th president of the United States.

A thought for the day: English novelist Samuel Butler said, "To live is like love. . .all reason is against it and all healthy instinct is for it."

WEST OPENS

When this hand was dealt in a rubber bridge game in New York, South was a well-known expert. He got into a conversation while he played the hand and found a way to boot a cold contract.

West opened the king of spades and continued the suit. South ruffed the second spade, drew trumps and led a diamond.

When dummy's king of diamonds won, declarer led the queen of clubs from dummy for a finesse. Unfortunately for him, the finesse lost to the king of clubs. Now South was dead, since he still had to lose two diamond tricks.

CONSCIOUS THOUGHT

South played the hand by habit and went down, but he would have made it with ease if he had given it a moment of conscious thought. See if you can find the right line of play.

After drawing trumps, South should lead out the ace of clubs and then lead his other club. An opponent will take the king of clubs, but South can later reach dummy with a high diamond to discard a diamond on dummy's remaining high club. Souuth will lose only one club and one diamond instead of one club and two diamonds.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one heart.

Avoid making a shutout bid in first or second position when you have the values for a sound opening bid.

You may easily miss a good slam contract. The very same hand may be worth a shutout bid in third position, since your partner's pass may rule out the likelihood of slam.

Contractors

We presently have listed a triplex in San Rafael for $75,000. This parcel is zoned to accommodate construction of 14 new units, for which detailed architectural plans have been prepared and approved by the City Planning Commission. Water meters are paid & if desired, a licensed contractor is available immediately to start building, upon obtaining construction financing. These units upon completion will afford double depreciation and tax shelter at a cost estimated to be approximately eight times the projected annual gross income. Call us for a review of total project plans and estimated construction cost.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR WASTE DISCHARGE REQUIREMENTS (National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System Permit) FOR SANITARY DISTRICT NO. 6 OF MARIN COUNTY NOVATO AND IGNACIO PLANTS

Sanitary District No. 6 of Marin County has filed a Report of Waste Discharge and applied for requirements for the combined discharge of municipal wastewater from Novato and Ignacio Treatment Plants into San Pablo Bay. The plants are located at 500 Davidson Street, Novato and 445 Bel Marin Keys Boulevard, Novato, California, respectively.

On the basis of preliminary staff review and application of lawful standards and regulations, the California Regional Water Quality Control Board, San Francisco Bay Region, tentatively proposes to issue waste discharge requirements including effluent limitations and special conditions. Persons wishing to comment upon or object to the proposed discharge requirements are invited to submit same in writing to the above address no later than thirty days after date of this notice.* All comments or objections received prior to this date will be considered in the formulation of final determinations regarding the waste discharge. If no objections are received, the Regional Board will issue discharge requirements. A public hearing will be held upon request of any interested person.

The Report of Waste Discharge, related documents, comments received, and other information are on file and may be inspected or copied at the office of the Regional Board between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. on business days.

Sex Charge Filed On Petaluman

Clyde Martin Wallen, of 1821 Lakeville Highway, was arraigned Wednesday in the City of Sonoma before Municipal Judge Alexander J. McMahon on charges of oral copulation, child molesting, possession of a sawed-off shotgun and failure to comply with a state law requiring persons with sex offense records to register with police.

Petaluma police arrested Wallen a week ago after a neighbor complained that he gave her 11 and 14-year-old sons gifts and liquor in return for sex.

Judge McMahon ordered Wallen to appear for a preliminary hearing at 11 a.m. Tuesday in Petaluma Municipal Court. He remained confined in Sonoma County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bond.

San Rafael, air quality yesterday: Oxidants, light air pollution. Nitrogen, clean air. Carbon monoxide, clean air. Smoke particles, light air pollution.

Other areas:
San Francisco, clean air.
San Jose, light air pollution.

Colorless oxidants, brownish nitrogen dioxide and smoke particles aggravate respiratory diseases. Carbon monoxide causes dizziness, headaches and slows reflexes. Smoke particles come largely from industrial sources.

BART Is Cutting Commute Traffic

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Rush hour traffic on the Bay Bridge has declined as more commuters use the Bay Area Rapid Transit system to get them across San Francisco Bay.

The state Department of Transportation yesterday said BART is reducing the number of cars crossing the bridge and also is taking commuters away from other kinds of transportation systems.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Cancer Of Pancreas Uncommon, Hard To Find And Hard To Fight

Cancer of the pancreas is not common, but its onset is elusive and its outlook bleak.

The pancreas is a long, narrow organ located under and behind the stomach. The first part is called the head; the middle, the body; and the rest, the tail. It is a highly developed and specialized organ. Some of its cells manufacture insulin that is absorbed by the blood for the metabolism of sugars. Its remaining cells manufacture digestive enzymes that drain into the first part of the small intestine.

THE OPENING of the pancreas drains through the same opening as the common duct, which allows bile to escape from the liver and gall bladder.

The gland's proximity to these openings explains the jaundice, the most common symptom of cancer, in the head of the pancreas.

Suddenly (and for no apparent reason) the skin and whites of the eyes become yellow because the enlarging tumor blocks the escape of bile. The diagnostic picture is further complicated because there usually is no pain.

Eighty seven per cent of the victims of cancer in the head of the pancreas turn yellow in color, lose weight and all too often are dead within a few weeks.

Several operations have been recommended but by this time, it usually is too late.

THOSE WHO SURVIVE surgery probably had the tumor removed before it spread beyond the pancreas. They often become labile diabetics.

Pain is the usual symptom of cancer of the body and tail of the pancreas. The distress may be in the upper abdomen, but it often radiates to the back and is associated with weight loss, nausea, vomiting, loss of appetite and constipation or diarrhea. But the subtle pain progresses so insidiously that the individual and his doctor are baffled. As might be expected, the diagnosis often is made too late. Surgery offers the only hope for cure.

The best news concerning pancreatic cancer is that new diagnostic methods are being developed. One utilizes the Japanese duodenal fiberscope; another is called angiography. In the latter, the blood vessels of the pancreas are visualized.

WRINKLED BROW

REPLY

I'll say "no" even though phrenologists believe that every little bump on the head has a meaning all its own.

HE MAKES FACES

A reader writes: Our six-year-old nephew constantly makes faces, moves his lips and shakes his head. Could there be something wrong with him?

REPLY

Possibly. This kind of behavior is seen in children with rheumatic fever of the brain (chorea) and those with mental problems. On the other hand, these activities could be nervous habits. Has he been examined by the family doctor? If not, he should be.

ENLARGED HEART

L. P. G. writes: Could a person have an enlarged heart for years without suffering a heart attack?

REPLY

Yes, he could. In fact, this frequently occurs in victims of high blood pressure or rheumatic heart disease.

POST-SURGICAL COCKTAIL

B. writes: I had abdominal surgery last week. If I have a cocktail, will my insides burn up?

REPLY

You should discuss this with your surgeon who knows what type of surgery you had. It might be better to postpone that cocktail for a week or two.

CLIMATE HELPS

L. writes: I suffer from arteriosclerosis and wondered if moving to a moderate climate would be of any value?

REPLY

I'm sure it would, as extremes in weather tax the circulatory system.

MIGRAINE AND REST

E. C. writes: My fiance, who is 18, suffers from migraine. Could her headaches be due to not getting enough rest?

REPLY

Yes, they could. Other factors such as frustration, worry, tension, also could be responsible. Has she discussed this with her family physician? If not, why not suggest that she do so?

YOUNG DIETER

Mrs. C. writes: My 10-year-old daughter is quite chubby. I'd like to put her on a diet and give her some of my reducing pills. Will this plan harm her in any way?

REPLY

Allende Widow Asks Support

NEW YORK (UPI) — Hortensia Allende, widow of ousted Chilean President Salvador Allende, has appealed to the American people and press to help "restore human rights to Chileans."

She said that with "the support of the people of the United States, and especially the press," the protest of those resisting the junta in Chile could be taken to the U.S. Congress.

"There is no doubt that even now the junta is in power only because of U.S. intervention through the CIA," Mrs. Allende said.

OFFICIAL NOTICE INVITING BIDS FOR THE PURCHASE OF BONDS, EAST SAN RAFAEL DRAINAGE ASSESSMENT DISTRICT NO. 2, CITY OF SAN RAFAEL, MARIN COUNTY, CALIFORNIA

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that sealed proposals will be received by the City Clerk of the City of San Rafael, Marin County, California, located in the City Hall, 1400 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, California, at the hour of 2:00 o'clock P.M. on the 18th day of November, 1974, for the purchase of an estimated $472,826.89 principal amount of bonds for East San Rafael Drainage Assessment District No. 2, City of San Rafael, Marin County, California. Said bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared at said time and place.

These bonds are authorized to be issued, and the assessments are authorized to be levied, under the provisions of Resolution of Intention No. 4509 of the City Council of the City of San Rafael, adopted on the 18th day of June, 1973, as later amended, and proceedings subsequent thereto. The Resolution of Intention, as amended, provides with relation to said bonds as follows:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that serial bonds to represent unpaid assessments and bearing interest at a rate of not to exceed eight per cent (8%) per annum shall be issued herein in the manner provided by Division 10 of the Streets and Highways Code, the Improvement Bond Act of 1915, the last installment of which bonds shall mature fourteen (14) years from the 2nd day of July next succeeding ten (10) months from their date.

MATURITIES AND AMOUNT OF BONDS: Said bonds will be in the estimated amount of $472,826.89. All bidders, however, by submission of a bid, agree to purchase the total amount of bonds that may be issued. Bids will be calculated and award will be made on the basis of the following maturities regardless of the exact amount of the bond issue. The exact amount of the issue will be determined by subtracting from the estimated amounts stated herein the amount of assessments paid in cash during the thirty (30) day cash payment period following recordation of the assessment. The estimated maturity schedule on the bonds will be as follows:

ESTIMATED MATURITY SCHEDULE

Bonds Maturing July 2	Amount Maturing
July 2, 1976	$ 5,826.89
July 2, 1977	10,000.00
July 2, 1978	25,000.00
July 2, 1979	36,000.00
July 2, 1980	36,000.00
July 2, 1981	36,000.00
July 2, 1982	36,000.00
July 2, 1983	36,000.00
July 2, 1984	36,000.00
July 2, 1985	36,000.00
July 2, 1986	36,000.00
July 2, 1987	36,000.00
July 2, 1988	36,000.00
July 2, 1989	36,000.00
July 2, 1990	36,000.00
TOTAL	$472,826.89

Note: It is is estimated that there will be approximately five $1,000 bonds maturing each year, with the balance of the bonds in $5,000 denominations.

DATE OF BONDS AND INTEREST RATE: Bonds are to be dated the 2nd day of January, 1975, and will bear interest from said date. Interest rate is fixed in the Resolution of Intention, as amended, at not to exceed eight per cent (8%) per annum. Such interest shall be evidenced by coupons attached to each bond, and each of said coupons shall represent six months' interest on the bond to which it is attached. The first coupon will be for interest from January 2, 1975 to January 2, 1976.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Said bonds are authorized to be issued by the City Council of the City of San Rafael, Marin County, California, by Resolution of Intention No. 4509, as amended, and proceedings subsequent thereto. The purpose is for the construction of a storm drainage pumping station, the construction of a ponding area and the acquisition of necessary interests in real property required for said work. These improvements are within the boundaries of the assessment district designated, "East San Rafael Drainage Assessment District No. 2, City of San Rafael, Marin County, California," and reference for details is made to the proceedings for the formation and completion of said assessment district.

PAYMENT: Both principal and interest are payable in lawful money of the United States at the office of the County Treasurer, Marin County, Civic Center, San Rafael, California.

CALLABLE BONDS: All bonds are callable pursuant to the provisions of the Improvement Bond Act of 1915 twice each year. No bonds may be called except on July 2 or January 2 and there must be a sixty-day notice of call. Any bond called will have interest to date of call and a premium of five per cent (5%) of the principal amount.

AUTHORITY FOR ISSUANCE: Said bonds were authorized to be issued by the proceedings in said assessment district and said assessment district was organized and consummated under the provisions of the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913 and bonds provided to be issued under the Improvement Bond Act of 1915 of the State of California.

SECURITY: Said bonds are payable from the redemption fund provided by law which is secured by all of the unpaid assessments within the boundaries of said district. Said bonds are further secured by a limited guarantee on the part of the entity which issued said bonds. Under the provisions of the Improvement Bond Act of 1915, any real property on which the owners have failed to pay installments of assessments as they fall due is sold for delinquencies by the City in the same manner as real property is sold for delinquent taxes. It is the duty of the City of San Rafael to bid such property in at such tax sale. It then becomes the duty of the City to transfer to the Redemption Fund the amount of the purchase. In the event there is not sufficient money in the General Fund to transfer this amount into the Redemption Fund, it becomes the mandatory duty of the City to levy a tax up to 10 cents on each $100.00 of assessed valuation of property within the boundaries of the City of San Rafael sufficient in amount to pay for the delinquencies. It becomes the continuing duty of the City, throughout the life of the bond issue, to levy such a tax and to pay for the installments upon property sold to the City for delinquencies. The maximum levy which the City is obligated to make in any one year is 10 cents on each $100.00 of assessed valuation. The assessed valuation of all taxable real property in the City of San Rafael for the fiscal year 1974-75 is $225,889,062.00. Ten cents on the $100.00 would therefore raise, in the City of San Rafael, the sum of $225,889.00, which is more than sufficient to cover the maximum amount of principal and interest accruing in any one year of the bond issue if a ten cent (10c) levy should be necessary.

LEGAL OPINION: The legal opinion of the law firm of Sturgis, Den-Dulk, Douglass & Anderson, 1322 Webster Street, Oakland, California, 94612, approving the validity of said bonds will be furnished to the successful bidder without charge. In the opinion of Counsel, interest on the bonds is exempt from all federal income taxes, and from State of California personal income taxes, under presently existing statutes, regulations and court decisions, and the bonds are also exempt from all California taxes except inheritance, gift and franchise taxes.

HIGHEST BID: Bidders are requested to name the interest rate or rates not exceeding eight per cent (8%) per annum in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of one per cent (1%). Each bidder must specify in his bid the amount and maturities of the bonds of each rate and all bonds maturing on the same date must bear interest at the same rate. No bid may name more than four interest rates, any of which may be repeated. No rate may be more than one and one-half per cent (1½%) higher than the lowest rate named in the bid. The interest payable on any bond on any interest payment date may, however, be represented by one or more coupons. A zero rate cannot be named for all or any of the time from the date of the bond to its stated maturity and the premium, if any, must be paid in the funds specified for payment of the bonds as part of the purchase price. No bid of less than 93% of par and accrued interest or for less than all of the bonds offered will be entertained. Unless all bids are rejected, the bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose proposal results in the lowest net interest cost to the issuer, and the net interest cost will be determined by deducting the amount of any premium paid from or adding the amount of any discount to the aggregate amount of interest upon all of the bonds from their date until their respective maturities.

RIGHT OF REJECTION: The City of San Rafael reserves the right at its discretion to reject any and all bids and to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

PROMPT AWARD: The City of San Rafael will take action awarding the bonds or rejecting all bids not later than forty-eight (48) hours after expiration of the time herein prescribed for the receipt of proposals.

PROMPT DELIVERY: Delivery of the bonds will be made to the successful bidder at the office of the City Treasurer, City Hall, 1400 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, California, as soon as the bonds can be prepared, but not earlier than the date of said bonds. Successful bidder, by making a bid, agrees to pay for and take delivery of the bonds within forty-eight (48) hours after notification by City that the bonds are ready for delivery, but bidder is not obligated to take delivery earlier than the date of the bonds. The successful bidder shall have the right at his option to cancel his offer to purchase if the bonds are not tendered for delivery within 45 days from the date of the bonds.

FORM OF BID: All bids must be for not less than all of the bonds herein offered for sale. Each bid, together with bidder's check, must be enclosed in a sealed envelope addressed to the City Clerk of the City of San Rafael, and endorsed "Proposal for Bonds, East San Rafael Drainage Assessment District No. 2, City of San Rafael, Marin County, California."

BID CHECK: With each bid must be submitted a certified check or cashier's check for $10,000.00, drawn on a bank or trust company transacting business in the State of California, payable to the order of the City of San Rafael to secure the City of San Rafael from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of his bid. Check of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned by mail upon the award of bonds. Check of successful bidder will be credited upon the purchase price of the bonds, and no interest will be paid upon the deposit of any successful bidder. Check of the successful bidder will be forfeited to City if the bidder fails to pay for and take delivery of the bonds within the time provided for in this notice as liquidated damages.

NO LITIGATION CERTIFICATE: The City of San Rafael will furnish to the successful bidder, at the time of the delivery of the bonds, a no-litigation certificate, certifying that there is no controversy or litigation pending or threatened concerning the validity of the bonds.

DATED: November 4, 1974

No More Breaks In Buried Lines

DALLAS (UPI) — Three men say they have marketed an electronic device which will eliminate accidental cutting of underground cables or pipes during excavations.

The device automatically shuts off the backhoe, trencher, or earthboring machine within a fraction of a second after it touches metal underground.

TONIGHT'S TELEVISION

KPIX (5), KXTV (10), 9 p.m. — Robert Foxworth had the opportunity to put his knowledge to good use in "The FBI Story — The FBI Versus Alvin Karpis, Public Enemy Number One," the first of a series of two-hour special film presentations dramatizing landmark cases of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, to have its world premiere on "The CBS Friday Night Movies." Foxworth stars as Karpis, one of the most notroious criminals of the early 1930's whose capture by the late J. Edgar Hoover was the first time the head of the FBI personally was involved in the apprehension of an FBI quarry.

KGO (7), KNTV (11), 11:30 p.m. — "The "Wide World of Entertainment" presentations of "In Concert" celebrates its second anniversary with two 90-minute shows starring the top rock and roll acts of the period. Such sounds as the Rolling Stones, Allman Brothers, Loggins and Messina and Elvin Bishop will be shown.

Straggler Won't Come Home

BANGKOK (UPI) — Chisaburo Bise, a former member of the Japanese Imperial Army who has been living in central Thailand since the end of World War II, is content to spend the rest of his days there, the Bangkok Post reported yesterday.

"My life is very poor and so miserable that I don't want to be known by my Japanese friends or my family," said Bise, 53, who was found last week by a group of Japanese veterans searching for stragglers.

Jelly Beans For Brown

Reagan also provided hamburgers. Brown had suggested during his campaign that lobbyists only be allowed to treat lawmakers to "two hamburgers and a Coke."

Board Decides To Sell Hot Air

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — Salt Lake County commissioners decided yesterday to sell some of their hot air.

They agreed to sell steam to a construction firm which needs it during winter work on a senior citizens apartment project adjacent to the county complex.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Some 'Nonprogram' Air Time Cut

By JAY SHARBUTT

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Association of Broadcasters now lets stations subscribing to its code of standards air up to 12 minutes of "nonprogram" material-commercials, promotional blurbs and so forth — each hour of their Saturday morning children's shows.

Faced with continued prodding by parents' groups and possible Federal Communications Commission action, the NAB in July cut that time to 10 minutes, starting in January, and to nine and one-half minutes by 1976.

It seems like a goodly slice. But in recent years, the four Post-Newsweek TV stations and the five owned by Group W have had even fewer minutes per hour open to prospective kiddie show sponsors.

Group W allows six minutes per hour, the Post-Newsweek stations eight minutes. Both companies say the restrictions apply on all days of the week, not just Saturday mornings.

There's a major catch: The restrictions only apply to programs produced by the stations or their parent companies or purchased by the companies for broadcast on the stations, the companies say.

All nine stations are network affiliates.

Company officials say they can't do anything about the number of commercials in network-provided shows the networks all adhere to NAB guidelines — because the ads are part of the network program packages.

Still, the companies' commercial time limits for non-network children's shows are considerably below the maximum the NAB code will allow in 1976. Why were the tighter restrictions adopted?

It's simple, says Ray Hubbard, vice president for programming at Post-Newsweek's stations in Miami and Jacksonville, Fla., Washington, D.C., and Hartford, Conn.

"Saturday morning is prime viewing time for children," he said. "We saw no reason why children should look at more commercials in their prime time than adults do in their prime time."

Hubbard, who said the limit was adopted in 1970, referred to the fact the NAB only allows nine and one-half minutes of "nonprogram" material per hour in prime evening time, when the TV audience is primarily adult.

Winthrop Baker, president of Group W's stations in Baltimore, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and San Francisco, was somewhat more blunt about why his company adopted its six-minute-per-hour rule.

He said while he wasn't involved in the decision, "the people here felt the children's programs were excessively commercial and that we'd do something about it in those areas where we had direct control."

Fewer Yule Gifts Forecast

CHICAGO (UPI) — Sleepy-eyed children and adults gathering around their trees and stockings Christmas morning will find fewer and less expensive gifts this year, a bank survey shows.

Continental Bank said its poll revealed that 45 per cent of the 750 families surveyed said they will spend less on gifts this year than last, marking the third straight year of decreased holiday spending.

About 41 per cent said they would spend about the same as last year and only 9 per cent said they planned to spend more.

Coordinator For Youth Is Hired

Bywater, a junior at Sonoma State College, was chosen from a field of 18 applicants for the newly created post. He will resign his seat on the commission to take the part-time job.

Recreation supervisor Larry Dito said Bywater will work 25 hours a week at $2.60 an hour. He will begin his duties next week.

Bywater, an unsuccessful candidate for the Novato City Council in April of 1972, has been a spokesman for youth.

Dito said Bywater will work to revitalize the Novato Youth Commission and to coordinate the recreation program being developed at Novato Junior high schools.

Counseling Center Open

Marsha Price, a family service agency counselor, will be available for counseling on Thursday afternoons; Susan Petrick, a student, Mondays through Wednesdays, and Irving Brick, a student at the Gestalt Institute, evenings and weekends, all by appointment.

Further information can be obtained by telephoning the center or, when the office is closed, calling the hotline number 897-NEED.

Rodeo Slated In Petaluma

The Marin and Sonoma County sheriff's office employee associations will sponsor a rodeo at 8 p.m. today and tomorrow and at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Petaluma fairgrounds.

Spokesman Linda Bradley said the event will include steer wrestling, team roping, saddle bronc and bull riding, calf roping, barrel racing and trick riding.

Admission will be $3.25 per person.

Soccer On Rise In Bay Area

Marin County soccer fans get another chance to watch top level collegiate play Sunday. That's when University of San Francisco and Cal meet on the College of Marin field in Kentfield.

Bob Braghetta of Ross, a man who played and coached the game before becoming a stock broker, began bringing college soccer to Marin four years ago when he organized a game between Stanford and Cal. In subsequent years University of St. Louis and UCLA have played against USF in Marin County games.

The Sunday game will be a key one for both teams trying to catch San Jose State in the West Coast Intercollegiate Soccer Conference. San Jose is 4-0, USF is 1-0 with two ties and Cal is 2-1.

Cal and USF meet each year and the Dons clearly dominate the series. They tied each other in 1966 but since then USF has won seven straight.

"YOU MUST regard USF a favorite, there is no doubt," said Cal's Bob DiGrazia, who is in his 22nd year as Bears' soccer coach. "They have a good team, experienced and with balance." But, he added, "with so much riding on it we'll probably play our best game."

Cal winds up its conference slate with University of Pacific and USF, which played Chico State today in a non-conference game, ends its season with a Nov. 16 crucial against San Jose State.

Sunday's game at College of Marin is a benefit for the Marin Youth Soccer Association and both DiGrazia and USF coach Steve Negoesco are glad they can help the kids' soccer group make some money. After all, these same youngsters will someday be ready for college soccer and the two coaches would always welcome some top-notch talent.

DiGrazia says he can already see the results of youth soccer programs in the Bay Area. "Some of the freshmen coming into college have played since they were 12. The programs for youth have mushroomed . . . there are a tremendous number of team."

ATTENDANCE AT college soccer games is also on the increase, according to DiGrazia. He said Cal's crowds have averaged between 300 and 1,000, but the Bay Area high was when UCLA played at San Jose State and 6,000 fans attended.

USF earlier this year was ranked fourth in the nation and top in the west coast but a 3-2 loss to University of Washington and then a 2-0 setback from UCLA last Saturday dropped the Dons from the rankings.

"In a way I'm glad," Negoesco said about the drop from the rankings. "I think this team is better than either of them (Washington and UCLA) but they need a jolt like this."

Negoesco points out that Cal has beaten Stanford and University of Santa Clara and those two teams tied his own Dons. "I don't ever remember an easy game against California."

NEGOESCO SAID, "We have to win to get back in the rankings. If my players catch a good day, they will whip anybody. It's an up and down team. They are like a yo-yo. If they lose their poise, they can lose the game. But it's a very fine ball club."

The players to watch, according to the coaches, are Cal's center forward Doug McKibbin, center fullback Stefano Viggiano and halfback Bob Martin, and USF's defensive whiz John Mickleright, and scorers Richard Atuegbu, Victor Arbalaez, Perry Fedje and Paul Korn.

Gametime Sunday is 1:30 p.m.

PENGUIN PACKS PUNCH

Tam Closes In On San Rafael

Tamalpais High School moved to within one-half game of league-leading, undefeated San Rafael yesterday with a 15-1, 18-16 victory over Novato in Marin County Athletic League girls volleyball.

Nicki Drejes and Ilisa Ford served for 10 points each as Tam won its 10th game against one loss to San Rafael. San Rafael, 11-0, with idle yesterday.

In other games, Kym Scow scored seven points to lead Redwood past Drake, 15-4, 15-5, and Marin Catholic downed San Marin, 15-9, 15-10 behind eight points by Beth Sangiacomo.

SIMON P. GOURDINE
Unanimous vote

Gourdine May Be Next Commissioner

RICHFIELD, Ohio (UPI) — Simon P. Gourdine, 34, was elected yesterday as deputy commissioner of the National Basketball Association, a position which makes him one of the highest ranking blacks in the sports administrative field, and possible heir apparent to NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy.

Gourdine was elected by a unanimous vote of the NBA Board of Governors at a meeting in this Cleveland suburb, the site of Nick Mileti's new multi-million dollar sports coliseum which is the home of Mileti's NBA Cleveland Cavaliers. Gourdine was given a three-year contract.

Gourdine, NBA vice president-administration since January, 1973, will take over for Kennedy whenever Kennedy is absent.

Kennedy has said he will retire next June when his five-year contract expires.

"Some people like to say there is too much emphasis placed on the appointment or election of a black to a significant position," said Gourdine.

"However, I think especially in sports—which is essentially a gold fish bowl environment—the decisions and actions of its executives are closely watched and as a black person whose performance has also been very closely scrutinized, I am certainly happy to receive this vote of confidence from Commissioner Kennedy and the Board of Governors," Gourdine said.

"I view this promotion from two perspectives—purely as a personal one and as a black man in America today."

Owen Or Snead At Quarterback

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (UPI) — The San Francisco quarterback Sunday at Dallas will be either veteran Norm Snead or rookie Tom Owen, depending on the condition of Snead's sore knee.

"Norm hasn't been able to put on the pads yet," said 49er Coach Dick Nolan, "but I think he'll be able to work out Friday."

The 49ers also lost their third offensive guard when Bob Penchion, slated to replace either Woody Peoples or Randy Beisler, the injured starters, also came up with a leg ailment.

Nolan said he hopes he will have a chance to work Steve Spurrier into some of Sunday's action. Spurrier, the club's first-string quarterback, hasn't played since suffering a shoulder separation in the final preseason game against Los Angeles.

Benefit Tennis Tourney Signups Being Accepted

Signups are being accepted for the San Domenico School benefit tennis tournament Saturday through Monday.

There will be timed, round-robin play for both novice and intermediate players Saturday, 9 a.m. to noon. Novices will compete at Dominican College, intermediates at San Domenico. Women's doubles will be held at both San Domenico and Dominican Sunday starting at 9 a.m.

The tourney will be conducted by Roberta Carlson, San Domenico tennis pro, and her staff.

Entry fee is $5 and checks should be mailed to Mrs. Fred Buscher, 7 William Avenue, Larkspur, 94939. Proceeds will benefit the San Anselmo school.

Top Draft Choices Are Impressive

Wilkes, Burleson Keep Looking Better

OAKLAND (UPI) — The top rookie draft picks for both Golden State and Seattle just keep looking better and better.

Both Keith Wilkes from UCLA and Tom Burleson of North Carolina State had the finest nights of their young pro careers last night as Seattle halted Golden State's six-game win streak with a 104- 93 win. The Sonics closed to within one game of Golden State in the National Basketball Association Pacific Division.

The 6-foot-7 Wilkes hit 13-of-27 shots and scored 27 points while grabbing 15 rebounds to lead in that department. He also managed four steals.

The Warriors trailed by 18 points after three quarters but closed to within three at 92-89 with 3:39 to go as Wilkes was practically the whole show. Golden State star Rick Barry was ice cold in the second and third periods so he worked hard to set up Wilkes during the fourth period rally.

But then Seattle outscored the Warriors 12-4 down the stretch with Fred Brown hitting six points and Burleson supplying the defense.

Burleson, whose height ranges from 7-1 to 7-4 depending on whose press book you read, did not start after slumping in recent games. But he came off the bench to hit 7- of-12 shots in 29 minutes, including 17 points. He hauled down 14 rebounds and blocked three shots.

Brown finished with 31 points and Spencer Haywood had 18. Leonard Gray, another good-looking rookie, muscled in 16. Barry and Butch Beard had 16

Pacific-8 Lead On Line Tomorrow

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

And why not?

All week long their respective coaches — John McKay of the Trojans and Jack Christiansen of the Cardinals — have been saying all the right things by way of getting the troops ready for tomorrow's "war."

Whenever Southern Cal and Stanford meet on a football field, it's usually a big happening. But when first place in the Pacific 8 Conference is at stake, as it is tomorrow, the rivalry takes on added meaning.

Between them, the two schools have won the last four Pac 8 titles and the Rose Bowl berth that is the ultimate reward. It's the same again tomorrow, although Stanford will have games left against Oregon and California and USC against Washington and UCLA in the conference, plus Notre Dame.

The oddsmakers, rarely influenced by anything except the cold, hard facts of life, have made the Trojans, ranked 11th nationally, nine point favorites. In this one, though, no one pays much attention to the odds and point spreads.

Both schools go into the game, which is expected to attract close to 90,000 fans in Stanford Stadium, with 3-0-1 Pac 8 records. USC has a better overall marks — 5-1-1 to Stanford's 3-3-2--and thus its national ranking.

While most of the attention tomorrow will be on USC and Stanford, California, UCLA and Washington, teams with title hopes, too, will be involved in key games.

Cal plays at Washington while UCLA is at home to Oregon. The Golden Bears are favored by two points over a Washington team that has exploded for 97 points in its last two games, while UCLA is picked by 15 over the Ducks.

Cal and UCLA are 2-1-1 and Washington is 2-2-0 in the league race. Obviously, none of the three can afford another loss since the winner of the USC-Stanford game will have a 4-0-1 record after tomorrow.

Washington State is a three-point favorite over Oregon State in the other Pac 8 matchup.

In the Pacific Coast Athletic Association, things are not as hectic. In fact, the race there is all but over. If San Diego State beats Pacific tomorrow night, it will be over.

San Jose State is at Hawaii, Long Beach State plays at Fresno State and Fullerton State is idle to complete the PCAA schedule.

MISFORTUNE IN FLORIDA

Hubbard Raps Raider Fans

OAKLAND (UPI) — Oakland Raider fullback Marv Hubbard is putting the rap on his own team's fans, but mostly because they act like fans in other cities.

"I suppose you have to say it's pretty much the same way other places, too, these days, but the hometown fans at the Coliseum have changed," he said.

"You can't please them anymore. I don't think they'd be satisfied if you won all your games by 70 points."

Hubbard, a special target of boobirds at Denver and Kansas City, says he can even hear boos at home games where the Raiders are playing well.

The big fullback for the 7-1 Raiders admits he might have "rabbit ears."

"Believe me, we can hear the boos more loudly and clearly than we can hear the hoorays."

Hubbard was especially irked that the Raiders' 27-7 win over Kansas City Sept. 22 drew some boos and was called a dull game. Hubbard says he is ready for either cheers or boos Sunday when Detroit comes to call.

Will Tamalpais Pull 2nd Upset?

The Tamalpais Indians, with a chance to be spoilers for the second straight week, play the San Rafael Bulldogs tonight at 8 o'clock in a Marin County Athletic League football game at Paul Miller Field in San Rafael. (Other high school football stories on page 40.)

Last week the Indians notched their first win of the MCAL season, upsetting Terra Linda, 18-15. That ended the league championship race, because Terra Linda was the last team with a chance to catch Novato. Tam is now 1-3-1 in league play, 3-5-1 overall.

The Bulldogs had the league bye last week, and contented themselves with an 18-13 win over stubborn Marin Catholic. That gave them a 3-2-1 overall record; they are tied with San Marin for second in the MCAL at 2-1-1, with two games left to play.

"We're coming up against a good team," says Tam coach Jess Racines. "We feel they are well balanced — they can throw the ball with (Dave) Steele, and they've got a couple of fine receivers in (Fred) Hurst and (Mike) McGrath.

San Rafael coach Bob Muster calls Tam "probably the most physical club in the league. They go on the assumption that the name of the game is hit."

The Indians are led by 205-pound tailback Kevin Murphy, the league's third-leading rusher. Against Terra Linda, he ran for one touchdown and passed for another, and subsequently was named the Independent-Journal Prep of the Week.

In addition, Tam will have a passing attack again with the return of quarterback Charlie Stump. He sat out the Terra Linda game after suffering a concussion two weeks ago, but he's got his doctor's okay to play tonight.

Ken Praszker, who replaced Stump last week, will start. But Charlie will be in there when the Indians need to throw.

San Marin Hopes To Finish No. 2

The San Marin Mustangs, fighting now for a second-place finish instead of first, take on the Drake Pirates in a Marin County Athletic League football game tomorrow at 1:30 at Novato High.

The Mustangs saw their undefeated record and a chance for the MCAL championship go down the drain last week when they bowed to undefeated Novato, 19-0. The loss left them tied for second with San Rafael at 2-1-1, and 6-1-1 overall with two games to play.

The Pirates, conversely, recorded their first win of the league season last week by edging Redwood, 10-7. That made them 1-4 in the MCAL, 2-5-1 overall.

Drake coach Dean Lazzarini, who must know how it feels to be down, hopes to catch San Marin a little bit depressed. "There's always that possibility," he says. "I suspect they'll be down a little bit, and it could make some difference."

Tomorrow's game will pit strength against strength, with the offenses dominating. San Marin has the league's strongest rushing game, Drake the poorest defense against the rush. But The Pirates have a dangerous passing attack, and the Mustangs can be thrown against.

San Marin depends on the running of Bob Bennett and Wayne Roche, the league's top two rushers, with help from Dave Azevedo and scrambling quarterback Dave Harder.

Quarterback Terry Fahey and wide receiver Kevin Peak are Drake's main threats, and Lazzarini hopes they can produce. "For us to score we're going to have to throw, no question about it."

Last week Novato quarterback Mike Moroski riddled the San Marin secondary for 234 yards and two touchdowns. But that was a tribute to his ability more than evidence of defensive weakness.

"Moroski is tremendous," says San Marin coach John Treu. "Even when we did play good defense, they still completed the pass."

SUSPENDED — Miami Dolphins running back Eugene (Mercury) Morris was suspended by coach Don Shula yesterday after bolting the team's training camp on Wednesday. WILL MARICHAL END HIS CAREER?

SANTO DOMINGO, D.R. (UPI) — Is Juan Marichal going to retire?

The veteran right-hander said yesterday he was considering it. He was commenting on his unconditional release from the Boston Red Sox.

Marichal, considered the best Dominican pitcher to play in the majors, told a local newspaper, El Nacional, that he could no longer put up with the pain in his back and hip. Marichal was in traction early this year because of his back problem. Marichal, 36, said he had also had troubles with his pitching arm during the last two seasons.

He said if his arm improved he might seek a contract "with a team that is near San Francisco," where he has a home. "But if I don't get what I want, I will retire. I can't complain. Baseball is all I have and all I am," Marichal said.

He ended the season with a 5-1 record for Boston. His lifetime record is 243 wins against only 141 defeats, making him the second winningest pitcher in the majors in modern times after Bob Gibson.

Marichal played in seven all-star games as a San Francisco Giant, winning two of them and losing none.

TALKS SET — Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn (above) will meet with George M. Steinbrenner, owner of the New York Yankees, next week to discuss Steinbrenner's guilty plea to a charge of making improper political campaign contributions. A New York federal court fined Steinbrenner $15,000 following his guilty plea to a conspiracy count. (UPI Telephoto)

Tough Test Ahead For Marin Tars

The College of Marin offense got into high gear last week, but it may shift back to compound low tomorrow when the Tars host Los Medanos of Pittsburg in a Camino Norte conference game at 1 p.m. in Kentfield.

Quarterback Tim Nowell, who completed 17 of 21 passes for 223 yards and two touchdowns in last Saturday's 23-21 loss to Contra Costa, fractured the index finger on his throwing hand near the end of that game and is lost for the season's last two games.

With Nowell at the controls, Marin outgained the Comets in total yardage, 357 to 337. And had it not been for a couple of bad calls by the officials, according to coach Dick Read, the Tars might have pulled off an upset.

Instead, they dropped their sixth game against a single win, and fell to 0-3 in the CNC. Los Medanos, a new school, has a 5-3 overall record and is 2-1 in league play. Last week the Mustangs defeated Solano, 19-6. Solano beat Marin, 27-17.

Read will go with Hoze Wright at quarterback, and Steve D'Ambra and Gino Pomilia in the running back positions tomorrow. D'Ambra gained 80 yards against Contra Costa to go with 101 against Santa Rosa the previous week.

Los Medanos has the league's leading runner in Horace Westbrook, and the second leading passer in Rick Wolf. Westbrook has 680 yards and five touchdowns, while Wolf has thrown for 1,154 and six scores.

Rowing Regatta Set Tomorrow

Marin Rowing Association will hold its Fall Regatta tomorrow starting at 10 a.m. on the Corte Madera Creek.

Eight races of 500 meters will be held, with starting times at 15-minute intervals. Included will be events for singles and fours in novice, junior, senior, lightweight and varsity classes.

The finish line is located near the Greenbrae Sailing Club. The public is invited to attend.

Redwood Vs. Marin: Only Pride At Stake

Pride will be the only thing at stake tomorrow when the Redwood Giants oppose the Marin Catholic Wildcats at 1 p.m. in a non-league football game at Kentfield.

"The tide's got to turn one of these days, and we feel if it's going to turn this year, it will be against Marin Catholic," says Redwood coach Phil Roark. His team is 0-7-1 overall and 0-4-1 in the Marin County Athletic League.

The Giants had been shut out in every league game until last week when they lost to Drake, 10-7.

Marin Catholic beat Drake, 7-2, but has lost to three other MCAL teams enroute to a 3-5 record. Last week the Wildcats, playing without two first-string running backs, managed to make quite a respectable showing in an 18-13 loss to speedy San Rafael.

Marin fullback Jeff Reusche has recovered from a concussion and will be ready, along with flanker Jeff Knotts, halfback Ed Ugarte and defensive end Greg Bullian, all of whom have played with injuries recently.

Marin Catholic coach Bruno Banducci expects a low-scoring game. "They're awfully strong defensively; they should be able to stop our scoring. We just hope to be able to contain them."

That shouldn't be too hard, considering how anemic Redwood's offense has been. It will be even weaker tomorrow — flanker Randy Miller is out with a shoulder separation, and star kick returner Jim Connor suffered a mild concussion last week and may not be 100 per cent.

Roark says Marin Catholic has its best team in five or six years. He believes that if the Wildcats win tomorrow, they might want to rejoin the MCAL next season. Against league opponents this year they have done well, losing to Tamalpais by just a point and holding San Marin to a 7-7 halftime tie before losing, 22-7.

San Rafael Boy In PPK Event

Blank is a district winner in the American Football Conference Punt, Pass and Kick event sponsored by the National Football League and the Ford Dealers of America.

GYMNASTICS

Marinites Qualify For Meet

Jocelyn Shiro of Mill Valley Middle School won three events and Joyce O'Neill of Santa Venetia took two yesterday to highlight sectional competition in junior high-intermediate compulsory gymnastics held at Miller Creek Junior High in Marinwood.

Girls from Santa Venetia, Kent, Reedland Woods, Davidson, Mill Valley, Vallecito, and Miller Creek schools took part in the meet, which was divided into novice, beginner, beginner open and intermediate categories. Events included unparallel bars, vault, balance beam and floor exercises.

Miss Shiro took the vault, floor exercises and balance beam in the intermediate class, and won the all around title. Miss O'Neill won the floor exercises and balance beam and was best all around in novice.

The top five performers in each event, plus the top quarter of all around finishers advance to the Bay Area meet set for Nov. 23 at Terman High School in Palo Alto.

Winners:

Novice: Bars — Linda Loui, Davidson; Vault - Annette Quiett, Davidson; Floor Exercise - Joyce O'Neill, Santa Venetia; Balance Beam - Joyce O'Neill, Santa Venetia; All Around - Joyce O'Neill, Santa Venetia.

Beginner: Bars - Sue Brennen, Santa Venetia; Vault - Erin Howard, Mill Valley; Floor Exercise - Susan Weisenberg, Davidson; Balance Beam - Melinda Przetak, Santa Venetia; All Around - Sue Brennen, Santa Venetia.

Four Marin Drivers In Champion Auto Racing

ROAD ATLANTA, Ga. — Four Marin County drivers were in the auto race field competing last weekend in the Champion Spark Plug Road Racing Classic, according to the official results released yesterday.

Terry Visger of San Rafael finished third in Race 14 E Production. He was driving a Joe Huffaker Eng. MGB.

Pat Walker of San Rafael was sixth in Race 12, Formula B. Walkr was behind the wheel of an Elden Mk15.

Bob Earl of San Rafael drove in Race 8, Formula F, but his Huffaker Royale did not finish. He completed only three of the 18 laps.

The racing Friday, Saturday and Sunday was sanctioned by the Sports Car Club of America. All events held on the 2.52-mile circuit covered 45.36 miles.

FISH AND GAME

By AL GIDDINGS

Salmon Project's Cooperative Effort

Tuesday, I went down to the National Marine Fish Laboratory in Tiburon to see those 7,000 silver salmon in the salt water fish pen there; the fish are scheduled for release this week.

The planting of these fish is the first phase of a pilot project to determine the potential for a silver salmon fishery in that area. During the phase, over 7,000 silver salmon have been successfully introduced and reared in the salt water pen and they have doubled in weight each month. The second and final phase of the study will be to prove out the possibility of developing a sport fishery in the bay. This involves fall releases of these pen reared salmon the next three years.

According to studies by the National Marine Fisheries Service at Manchester, Wash., in Puget Sound, silver salmon held in salt water beyond the weight they generally attain in nature before going to sea have a different migratory behavior as compared to their wild counterparts. Salt water pen reared silvers became stay-at-home fish in Puget Sound when they were freed from the pens. Many of the released salmon lived out their life cycle within 15 miles of rearing sites; many of the fish returned to a fresh water stream nearby to spawn, and a good summer and fall sport fishery was developed near the pen rearing site.

Each fish released has been marked and tagged. All fish released will have the small fin in front of the tail fin missing. This will signal the presence of a minute metal tag about the size of a pin head imbedded in the nose of each fish. These tags of metal can be detected by their magnetic properties. At least 600 fish released will carry a plastic dart tag easily detected at first sight. These tags are 1½ inches long and 1/32 of an inch in diameter. The tags are placed below the top fin. A reward of $5 will be paid for the return of each dart tag that carries the designated reward.

Now, what does all this mean to you? Salmon season closes in the ocean Nov. 17 this year, but the bay is open the year around. The legal size limits on salmon stays in effect for the bay fishery; that is, your salmon must measure 22 inches to be legal, except that one fish can be under the 22 inches, but not less than 20 inches.

Will some of these small salmon be caught? There is a good possibility, but they would be illegal to keep because of the size limits. Exceptions are those fish tagged with the streamer which would be legal under a special law by the Fish and Game Commission. Leave the streamer tag on the fish and take it up to the laboratory at Tiburon.

When will these fish be legal? They are expected to reach six pounds in weight by next summer and fall, so should be of legal size.

If they enter Corte Madera Creek next fall on a spawning run, fishing for them in the tide waters of Corte Madera Creek would be legal. There would then be no size limit.

If things work out here as they have in Puget Sound, a silver salmon fishery may be awaiting you at your back door next year. If the program is highly successful, it could be carried further into Tomales Bay and other likely areas. We owe our thanks to the San Francisco Tyee Club which has put $6,000 into the project for the pen, nets and fish food, and for the time club members spent in building the pen and other salmon culture duties on weekends at Tiburon. The National Marine Fisheries Service has provided the site with Lloyd Richards carrying out the salmon culture duties throughout the project.

The California Fish and Game Department provided the 10,000 silver salmon from the Mad River Hatchery. The salmon are from eggs of Noyo River stock.

All in all, a great deal of time in a cooperative effort has been put out to make this experiment a success. Let's hope it is.

Girl Swimmers Finish Unbeaten

San Rafael High School walloped Tamalpais, 73-40, yesterday to finish the girls swimming season as undebeated champion of the Marin County Athletic League.

Julie Waters and Cary Backhaus won two events each to pace San Rafael to its seventh win of 1974. Miss Waters took the 100 individual medley in 1:07.3, and the 100 backstroke in 1:11. Miss Backhaus won the 200 freestyle in 2:14.4 and the 100 fly in 1:09.

Jane Crichton was a double winner for Tam, taking the 100 free in 1:02.1 and the 100 breast in 1:10.5.

Mays Could Have Been Mets' Designated Hitter

Combined AP & UPI

SAN FRANCISCO — Willie Mays, who played baseball for 23 years, would have played a couple more if the National League had adopted the designated hitter rule.

The former San Francisco Giant center fielder said here that he thinks the DH rule has been a success for the American League because it prolonged the careers of stars like Tommy Davis, Al Kaline, Orlando Cepeda and Rico Carty.

Mays said in his final year for the New York Mets, he spent most of his time pinch-hitting.

"But after I pinch-hit for the pitcher, I was through for the day. If the National League had the DH rule, I could have played every day as a hitter. That would have been great."

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Two Basically Sound Issues

By DAVID R. SARGENT

Q. I would appreciate your advice on whether to sell 100 shares each of Communications Satellite (NYSE) and Witco Chemical (NYSE). My circumstances are such that I do not need the money and sale would entail taking a considerable loss. I am retired on a government pension but am self-employed and plan to work 5 more years. Should I enroll in a Keogh Plan, using a 4-year savings certificate, or just buy tax-exempt bonds on my own? — J.B.

A. The answer to your latter question depends on a number of factors, including your present taxable income. Your tax accountant or attorney, who has access to all the facts concerning your financial situation, is the best source of advice on this matter. In general, however, the recent liberalization of Keogh has made the plan far more attractive for self-employed individuals wishing to set aside part of their earnings in a tax-sheltered plan.

As for your two fundamentally sound stock holdings, I would advise against selling them at a loss. Witco, a petroleum and chemical firm, stresses specialty products which require technical expertise. Well over half of earnings come from the petroleum group — embracing Pennsylvania-grade lubricants, white oils, petrolatums, sulfonates, etc.

The chemical group is especially notable for plastics additives, detergents and the promising new polybutylene. Strong demand, soaring prices and operating efficiencies have brought dramatic earnings gains (diluted earnings may reach $4.50 a share in 1974). Vast usage of petroleum sulfonates in tertiary recovery of crude oil and large business in polybutylene could be potential kickers.

Comsat has recently reported very strong operating results for the 9 months — net rose 30 per cent on a 13 per cent gain in revenues. Furthermore, as a shareholder, your return, via dividends, has been increased 47 per cent in the last nine months from 68 cents to $1 per share annually. The share price has fully discounted the pending FCC decision on a rate cut of over 20 per cent. Nonetheless, growth in areas such as data transmission and maritime communications should more than offset any proposed rate cuts or increasing competition.

(Mr. Sargent cannot answer all mail personally, but will answer all questions possible in his column.)

SPORTY MERCEDES

The more sporting Mercedes-Benz models continue basically unchanged for 1975. The 450 SLC (above), flagship of the line, is a limited-edition four-seater coupe, while the two-seater 450 SL comes with both hard and soft tops as standard equipment. Marin dealer is R.A.B. Motors of San Rafael.

Prices Turn Mixed In Moderate Trade

Advances barely led declines, 555 to 530, among the 1,500 issues crossing the tape.

There was growing concern on Wall Street a coal industry strike, which seems inevitable, may be a lengthy one.

Investors were somewhat encouraged early in the session when First National City Bank of New York — second largest in the nation and trendsetter — lowered the prime lending rate it charges key corporate customers to 10½ per cent from 10¾ per cent.

Wall Street apparently was alarmed late yesterday when the Federal Reserve Board reported loan demand at New York's 12 leading banks rose $510 million in the latest reporting week and the nation's money supply decreased by $2 billion.

Prices were mixed in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Texas International was the most active Amex issue, up ½ to 6¼ on 46,900 shares.

Bank Of Marin Constructing New Administrative Building

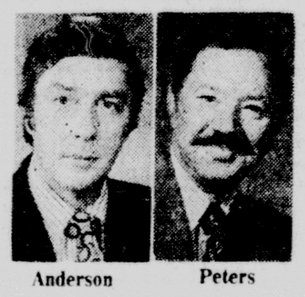
A new administrative services building for Bank of Marin, where 60 staff members will be employed, is under construction on the northeast corner of Bel Marin Keys and Commercial Boulevards in Ignacio.

Bank President William P. Murray Jr. announced that the 19,100-square-foot building will provide offices for the bank's accounting, auditing, central proof and Master Charge departments as well as space for the purchasing and supply department and warehousing. Offstreet parking will be available adjacent to the building.

Sited between two large oak trees, the exterior of the structure will be a combination of smooth and textured concrete walls with cedar shingle eaves and redwood trim. The building is expected to be ready in about six months.

KENNETH B. ANDERSON of San Rafael was named San Francisco district manager with the Carrier Air Conditioning division of Carrier Corporation, which is headquartered in Syracuse, N.Y.

A veteran of 10 years in the air conditioning industry, Anderson was formerly San Francisco regional manager with another air conditioning manufacturer.



Anderson Peters

ALAN PETERS of Mill Valley has been named director of the computer center at United Airlines' maintenance operations complex near San Francisco International Airport.

A graduate of the University of Manchester, England, Peters joined United as a methods engineer in 1955, became a staff manager of administrative services in 1960 and was named data processing manager in 1966 before being transferred to Chicago as director of computer applications services in 1972.

McKINNEY & ASSOCIATES, a new brokerage firm for industrial food ingredients, has been established at 104 Tiburon Boulevard, Strawberry.

The company sells bulk food ingredients to food manufacturers in Northern California. It is headed by Larry G. McKinney of Ignacio, who was with Mailliard & Schmiedell food brokers in Sausalito for 10 years before opening his own firm.

FIRESIDE BOOKS 'N Cards in Petaluma will celebrate the grand opening of its new store in Washington Square Shopping Center (South McDowell Boulevard and East Washington Street) this coming Sunday from noon to 5 p.m.

Owner Carl Anderson operated the business for four and one-half years at Petaluma Plaza on North McDowell before moving to Washington Square.

GLORIA HAYDEN of Corte Madera has joined the staff of Beacock & Maxson Realtors in Corte Madera. She is a real estate broker with a degree from UC Berkeley.

Mrs. Hayden is investment oriented and was previously with Red Carpet Realtors in Mill Valley before joining Beacock & Maxson.

FINN LEA of Frank Howard Allen & Co. Realtors has transferred from the Novato office to the Mill Valley office at 535 Miller Avenue. Lea was in the Novato office for the past two years.

AUDAC, a new firm specializing in the service and repair of sound systems and inter-com equipment for businesses and institutions, has just been formed in Terra Linda by Stanley and Barbara Zrnich of Ayala Court.

Zrnich, who has been in the business for about 17 years including 12 years with Executone, will concentrate on servicing institutions like hospitals, industrial and commercial firms. Audac, which stands for audio activities, will serve the North and East Bay areas.

TRI-COUNTY ELEVATOR Co., which services and repairs elevators, has been founded in San Rafael at 1299 Fourth Street, on the second floor of the Reynold C. Johnson Building.

Two of the principals, Dennis E. Staub of San Rafael and Jessie R. Munyon of San Anselmo also operate J & D Services janitorial, repair, and maintenance firm in the same location. Munyon and Staub are active in coaching Little League and youth football in Marin County.

A third partner in Tri-County Elevator is Kenneth Swanson of Novato, who has more than 20 years of experience in elevator repair and maintenance. The new firm will serve Marin and Sonoma Counties primarily.

ALBERT GARVEY'S prints are on exhibit for the rest of this month at the Bank of America Center in San Francisco, at California and Kearny Streets.

NOVATO REAL ESTATE SCHOOL, successor to the former Red Carpet Real Estate School, has been established in suite 226 of the Novato Center Building, 1516 Grant Avenue, Novato.

Nita Mehrten, school registrar, announced that license preparation courses for both brokers and salesmen are taught by credentialed instructors. Novato Real Estate School offers both daytime and evening classes.

Silver Prices

NEW YORK (UPI) — Handy and Harman today quoted silver at $5.16 cents per fine ounce up 13.1 cents. Engelhard quoted silver bullion at $5.16 up 13.1 cents and fabricated silver at $5.289 up 23.9 cents.

Mercy Killing To Beethoven Music

LONDON (UPI) — To the strains of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, Dr. George Mair held the hand of his middleaged woman patient. Then he slipped a hypodermic needle into a vein and killed her.

Mair admits she was only one of the many patients he killed deliberately during his long career as a surgeon in hospitals throughout England and Scotland.

He said he knows he risks prosecution for murder even though such actions were always at the request of the patient.

Mair, a fellow of the Royal College of Surgeons of Glasgow and Edinburgh, said he is retired from medicine and devotes his time to writing and lecturing.

He said he could not remember how many persons he killed for mercy, "but it is not a small number."

"I know many people will not agree and say it is murder," he sad. "I do not regard it as such."

Mair said the mercy killings began soon after he became resident surgical officer at Warneford Hospital in the English Midlands in 1939.

"Death certificates were issued without question, and there seemed no problems with the coroner," he said. "The actual mercy killings went according to plan."

"It was, of course, completely illegal and totally unethical, but I still say it was merciful to the people concerned," he said. "It saved them weeks and months of pain, worry and possibly even fear."

He gave the following account of the Beethoven "mercy killing" of a woman in her middle 40s with only months to live:

"She explained that her house was now in order, her will organized and that she had seen her family with friends while she was still looking reasonably well — she had her hair dressed for the occasion.

"She wished me to take her into a side room, lay on certain music from a favorite disc and then, when she gave me the signal, allow her to go out using a suitable injection.

"I did exactly as she wished, and she squeezed my hand while listening to the second movement of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony. I then slipped the needle into a large vein and gave her an enormous dose of suitable drugs.

"She slept swiftly and died in less than an hour. Her last words were whispered, but clear: 'Thank you so very, very much.' "

Tough New Security Measures Proposed For Nuclear Plants

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Atomic Energy Commission has outlined tough new security measures, including bullet resistant windows and doors, for nuclear power plants and fuel shippers to guard against sabotage and theft of atomic materials.

The proposed regulations, announced yesterday, toughen rules that went into effect last December to protect the nation's growing nuclear industry from terrorists and atomic blackmailers.

The new measures become effective after appeal periods of 30 to 60 days and would require each of the 50 commercial nuclear power plants now licensed to operate to have a physical security organization.

They also would order plants to establish such protective systems as monitored isolation zones around fences and bullet-resistant windows and doors for reactor control rooms.

Firms shipping significant amounts of uranium and plutonium would have to use specially designed trucks or armored cars with two armed guards and accompanied by one or two escort vehicles carrying armed guards.

The new regulations increase the number of guards required for rail shipments from two to five and specify that no container weighing less than 5,000 pounds may be shipped on open rail cars.

The AEC said there have been no known thefts of nuclear materials and no attemmpts to sabotage operating commercial nuclear plants to cause a safety problem. But a spokesman said the new restrictions were required because of the growing number of plants and fuel shipments.

The commission also proposed in August to permit the use of plutonium to fuel nuclear power plants where only uranium is now used. This proposal drew strong criticism in September from Sens. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., and Philip A.. Hart, D-Mich., who said it endangered the public.

Mondale and Hart said several pounds of plutonium are enough for a crude atomic bomb "and a commission decision to authorize the commercial use of plutonimum here and abroad must dramatically increase the risk that plutonium might be stolen by determined groups of terorists, blackmailers or other criminals."

Oklahoman Backs Reagan

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — Oklahoma state GOP chairman Clarence Warner has volunteered to work in Ronald Reagan's 1976 presidential campaign, "especially against President Ford."

The California governor has not indicated he will run.

"I feel Reagan would be a definite improvement over the president we now have," Warner said yesterday.

California Reading Said Above Norm

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — California school children are reading above the national norm for the first time in years, Wilson Riles, state superintendent of public instruction, said yesterday.

He also said that despite its reading success, the state was behind in some educational technology, particularly in instructional television.

This means you may save hundreds of dollars, and get something no other car can give you... rotary-engine performance.

Rotary acceleration and smoothness you have to experience to believe. And you'll get standard Mazda features like radial-ply tires, front disc brakes, full carpeting, and more.

MAZDA Hmmmmmm.

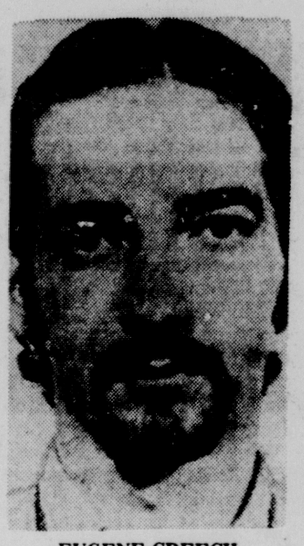
Denver Police Broaden Search For Would-Be Hart Assassin



EUGENE CREECH
Hired as killer?

DENVER (UPI) — Thomas Eugene Creech is narrow-faced, bearded, parts his hair in the middle, and Denver police said yesterday an informant identified him as a killer hired to "hit" Democratic Sen.-elect Gary Hart.

"We don't know how accurate the information is but we're not taking any chances," a department spokesman said. "He's wanted for a couple of killings in Oregon, according to our information."

Police provided Hart with bodyguards Tuesday after being tipped that a hired killer was in Denver to shoot the candidate. Bodyguards also were provided Democratic Gov.-elect Richard Lamm even though no threats have been made against his life.

Dill said Creech, wanted in Oregon for the murder of a Salem grocery clerk and a second person in Portland, was identified by the informant who told police he talked with Creech before the election.

Dill quoted the informant as saying Creech told him he had been hired to assassinate Hart. Dill said Creech did not identify who hired him.

Police Wednesday distributed circulars with pictures of Creech. The circulars said the man had a tatto on his right cheek and was believed armed with a .44-magnum revolver.

Police said that they had received reports from persons claiming they saw Creech, 24, and that an employee of the hotel where Hart appeared election night reported seeing a rifle with a telescopic sight in a room Monday night. A search of the hotel turned up nothing.

Stay-Aways Might Have Changed Voting Outcome

By SAM DOBBINS
Associated Press Writer

If a bare handful of the near-record number of Americans who stayed away from the polls had voted, many who lost cliff-hanger elections Tuesday might have been elected to high government office.

Five races for state governorships will go on record as being decided by less than 5,000 votes. One of the five squeakers still is undecided. In a sixth close contest, a candidate conceded that he had lost, only to learn later that he was the winner.

There were cliff-hangers in five U.S. Senate races. In one, the final unofficial returns had the candidates less than 100 votes apart, too close for the outcome to be decided before an official canvass.

In another, the spread was less than 300 and in a third it was about 600. The two others were decided by fewer than 5,000 votes.

Voter turnout for Tuesday's election — estimated at 38 per cent — was at its lowest level since 1946, when 37.1 per cent of the voting age population went to the polls. The lowest figure on record is 32.5 per cent for 1942, when millions of men were away at war.

Republican Paul Laxalt, the former governor of Nevada, narrowly won his U.S. Senate race by some 600 votes out of about 158,000 cast in the race. The same for U.S. Rep. Louis C. Wyman, another Republican, who won by less than 300 votes in a New Hampshire race where 220,000 ballots were cast.

Incumbent Oklahoma Republican Henry Bellmon got by a little more easily. Even though some 777,000 persons voted in the race, Bellmon won by a little more than a 3,000-vote margin.

Democrat Patrick J. Leahy, a county prosecutor in Vermont, is going to the Senate by virtue of a 4,042 margin of victory. That race attracted 136,000 voters.

Then there's North Dakota, where the results of that Senate race are still uncertain. As canvassing boards began going over election returns yesterday, GOP Sen. Milton R. Young was leading his challenger, former Democratic Gov. William L. Guy, by less than 100 votes out of more than 236,000 cast.

The winning margins were somewhat wider in four of the cliff-hanger races for governorships. Had 5,000 persons voted the other way, Arizona Democrat Raul Castro, Republican Robert Bennett of Kansas, incumbent Republican Meldrim Thompson of New Hampshire and Democrat Jerry Apodaca of New Mexico would be looking for other work. Their winning margins really aren't as wide as they look since hundreds of thousands of voters were cast in these races.

In Alaska, with 75 per cent of the vote in yesterday, incumbent Democrat William Egan was virtually deadlocked with his Republican challenger. That race, too, likely will be decided by a relatively few votes.
